

RUSSIA NEEDS MORAL SUPPORT

Entire Country Is in Troubled State, Due to Decided Reverses in the Far East.

VOLUNTEER CRUISERS RECALLED

England's Protest Takes Effect--Worse Stories of the Great Loss of Life to the Russian Armies--American Boat Safe.

[Special by Scripps-Metier.] London, July 29.—The tension in the Russo-British relations has been relaxed and a rupture is not probable. Count Benckendorff, Russian ambassador to Great Britain, informed Lord Lansdowne today that if Russia had committed a wrong she was ready and willing to make full reparation, but before any action could be taken in the Knight Commander case the Russian government must have the opportunity of receiving the report of the commander of the Vladivostok squadron. Lord Lansdowne was not disposed to press the matter unduly and promised to wait a reasonable time.

America Looks to England.
It developed today that the United States is depending on Great Britain to obtain compensation for the loss of the Knight Commander's cargo. It is the custom for shipowners to be responsible for cargoes and therefore the American claim is to be made to the owners of the Knight Commander, who, of course, are British, and who in turn will make a claim on the British government.

Reiterates British View.
In the house of commons yesterday afternoon Premier Balfour said that the acute stage of the Red sea incidents had passed, and that the Russian volunteer fleet vessels would be withdrawn. He laid down the British view that no belligerent warships could issue from the Black sea and that the volunteer fleet vessels in issuing therefrom, if they took belligerent action, either had no right to issue or no right to take such action.

Japanese Tactics Better.
Seoul, July 29.—The fighting at Chantan afforded evidence of the superior tactical ability of the Japanese in comparison with their enemy when executing preconceived plans. A turning movement executed by the Japanese before Chantan, involving a march of sixteen miles over a precipitous country and in great heat, was a remarkable performance, demonstrating a high order of stamina on the part of the Japanese officers. The Russians here again failed to employ their artillery to advantage. The Japanese mountain guns, employing an indirect fire from a concealed position, more than held their own against the field guns of the Russians.

Kuropatkin Not Wounded.
London, July 29.—News from the seat of war is rather meager today. There is yet no official confirmation of the report that Gen. Kuropatkin has been seriously wounded during the recent fighting, but it comes unofficially from several sources, and has been received here with considerable credence. The report that the Japanese have taken Hanchow, the Russians having fallen back on Liao Yang, also lacks confirmation, and is believed by experts to be premature.

More Refugees.
Chefoo, July 29.—Additional refugees who have arrived here from Port Arthur, declare that three vessels of the Russian fleet until recently within the harbor, have succeeded in making their way to the open sea.

No knowledge of their destination or intention is obtainable. It is the general impression here, however, that three vessels have merely made a sortie for purposes of reconnaissance. So rapidly have things been gotten in hand, that the Liao river is now asserted to be open to navigation by neutral vessels and all trade generally.

Gives His Name.
St. Petersburg, July 29.—It is stated the name of Plevne's assassin is Poroznov, and his home is in southern Russia.

Japs' Losses.
St. Petersburg, July 29.—The Japanese casualties in the battle of Tashiao are believed to be four or five thousand. The Russian casualties are said to be a thousand.

Leaves Liao Yang.
Hankow, July 29.—A dispatch from Tien Tsin states Kuropatkin is evacuating Liao Yang and withdrawing to North Mukden. He is trying to escape from the cordon the Japanese are drawing around him.

Defeat Japs.
St. Petersburg, July 29.—Kuropatkin reports that July 27 the Russian volunteers and Cossacks ambushed the Japanese reconnoitering troops to the southwest of Masapudi. The Japanese lost twelve killed, twenty Pauper's Unique Complaint.

"Ever since I have been washed I have not been warm," complained a pauper to a member of an English board of guardians the other day.

wounded and two prisoners.
Report Attack On Port Arthur.
London, July 29.—It is reported from Shanghai and Yokohama that a general attack upon Port Arthur has begun.
The Tientsin correspondent of the London Star telegraphs it is reported there that Gen. Kuropatkin was wounded in the battle at Tachekiao and another general was killed. The Russian losses in the battle were the same correspondent, were 10,000. An increasing force of Japanese is occupying Newchwang.

A report to a news agency states that the Japanese army that landed at Takashan has occupied the Russian position commanding the road east of Hanchow.

Heavy Loss For Japanese.
Liao Yang, July 29.—The Japanese loss at Tachekiao is estimated at from 4,000 to 5,000, resulting chiefly from their attempts to take entrenched positions in the face of a heavy artillery fire.

The Russian artillery was better disposed than in any previous fight. The batteries scientifically supported each other, all of them being in a position to deliver the most effective fire.

Col. Paschenko, whose battery distinguished itself, had a marvelous escape. He was thrown bodily into the air by the explosion of a melinite shell, but was unharmed and continued to fight. Later he was wounded in the hand while waving the signal to the guns.

Murquid Oyama, commander in chief of the Japanese field forces, is reported to have been personally in command.

Port Arthur Fleet Escapes.
Chefoo, July 29.—Three large warships have left Port Arthur, according to Chinese refugees.
A Russian army officer, who is a trusted agent of Gen. Stoessel, the commander of the forces at Port Arthur, arrived here for the purpose of purchasing steel for use in the dock yards at Port Arthur. This officer declares that the Russians are sanguine that Port Arthur will never fall.

Hundreds of Gunners Die.
London, July 29.—The Daily Mail's New Chwang correspondent, in a long description of the battle of Ta Tehe Kiao, which mainly repeats the details already known, says it was not until the Japanese attacked all along their front that the Russians retreated.

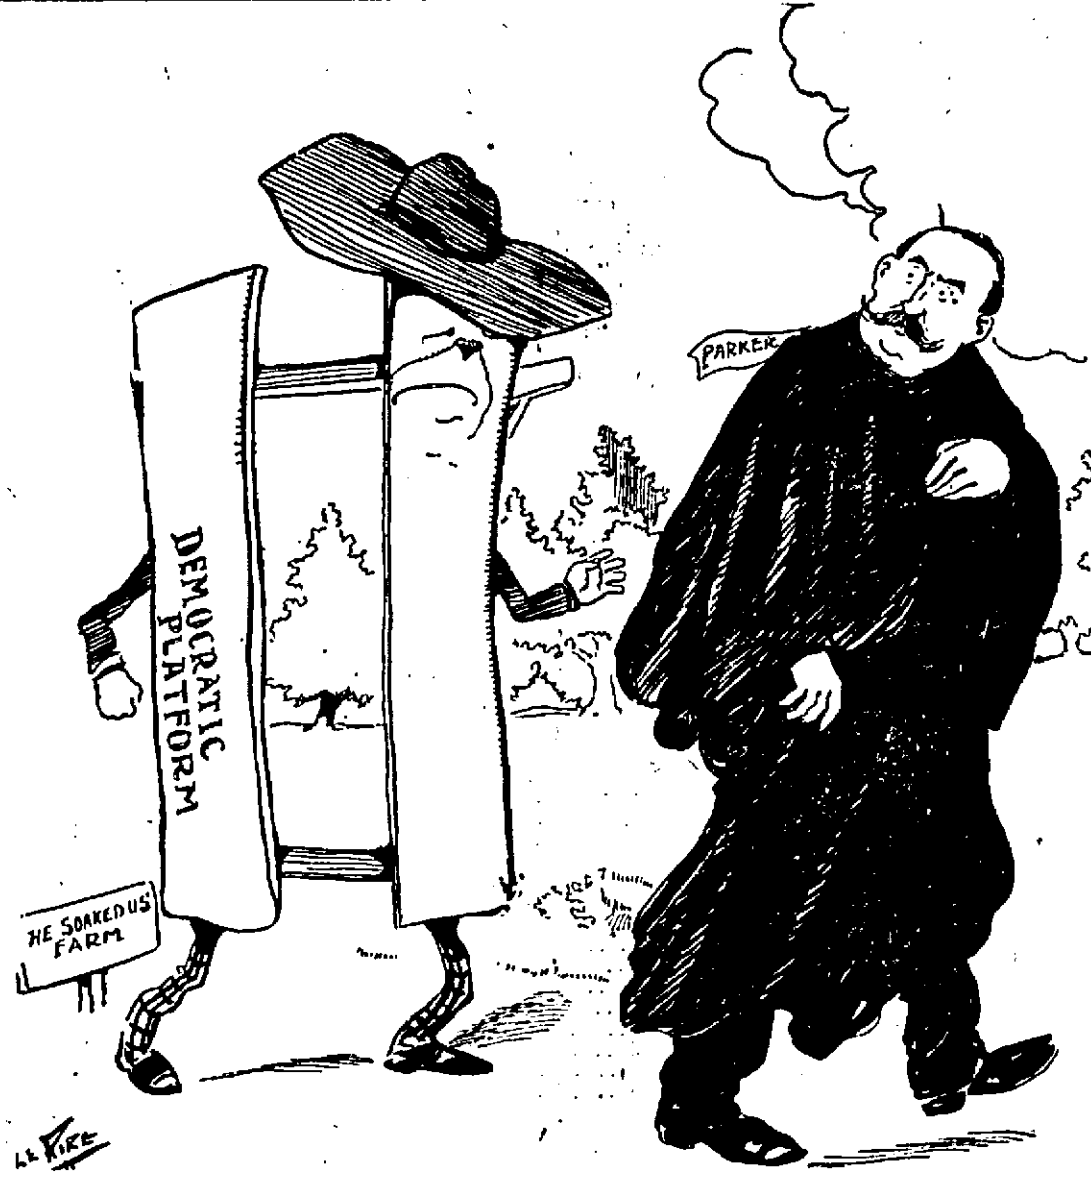

The Japanese artillery was immeasurably superior, and their shrapnel frightfully destructive. Russian gunners went down by hundreds, but their guns were fought with magnificent bravery. The Russian officers, the correspondent adds, speak in the highest terms of the bravery of their men. They say Russia already has lost one campaign owing to the recklessness of the emperor's advisers, but that she must have Manchouria, and that she is now preparing for another campaign.

Russians in Retreat.
Tokio, July 29.—The Russians abandoned Ta Tehe Kiao at noon on Monday, July 25, retreating before the advancing army under Gen. Oku. They applied the torch to Ta Tehe Kiao and the surrounding towns, and when the Japanese arrived they found the flames were still raging. The Japanese pursuit extended beyond Ta Tehe Kiao and the Japanese left wing occupied Yin Kow. The positions held by the Russians last Sunday night south of Ta Tehe Kiao consisted of nine miles of trenches and fortifications.

Assume Control of New Chwang.
New Chwang, July 29.—Takayama, the Japanese administrator of New Chwang, has arrived here and has issued notification to the population that New Chwang and Yingkow are now under Japanese control, and that lives and property will be protected.

Mr. Ghehrst, an American, who was deputy commissioner of customs here under the Russian administration, has been appointed commissioner of customs. United States Consul General Miller is to continue in office under the Japanese administration. He watched Japanese interests here during the Russian administration, and his conduct of the affairs which came to his hands since the beginning of the war has won for Mr. Miller the highest praise.

Many Russian Nationalities.
There are no fewer than 110 nationalities into which the Russian population has been divided, the three great stocks being the Finns, the Tatars and the Slavs.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM—YOU MAY DISOWN ME, JUDGE, BUT YOU CAN'T LOSE ME

SENSATIONAL IS THE CHARGE MADE

Wealthy Green Bay People Are Mixed Up in a Disgraceful Love Affair.

[Special to The Gazette.] Green Bay, July 29.—Papers have been served on Henry Hahr, the big brewer, in a suit for the sum of $50,000, by Albert W. Hollman, of the wholesale crockery firm of Welke, Hollman & Co., on the charge of alienating his wife's affections. Divorce proceedings have also been instituted with sensational features.

FINDER OF $150,000,000 IS PAUPER

Discoverer of Cripple Creek Mines, Penniless, Is Near Death.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 29.—Robert Womack, discoverer of Cripple Creek, which has yielded others more than $150,000,000, is believed to be dying here in a sanitarium. He did not benefit by his discovery and for several years has been a street laborer in this city. He is penniless.

Funston on Tour of Alaska.

Seattle, Wash., July 29.—Gen. Frederick Funston, commanding the department of the Columbia and Alaska, has left on a tour of inspection of all the army posts in the north.

STATE NOTES

James Burnside of Ashland stopped a runaway just in time to prevent loss of lives in a crowd watching a circus parade. Another runaway tipped a baby out of a buggy without injuring the child.

Ole Gulack, a resident of Beloit and vicinity for sixty-five years, is dead.

Youthful robbers obtained $10 and some valuable lace at the home of John Riley in Menominee.

James Kerwin of Beloit has commenced suit against Officer Albert Roehl, alleging that the policeman beat him so badly on July 4 that he has been under the care of a physician since. Roehl's friends say Kerwin was looking for trouble.

The Bank of Sparta, a state bank, has increased its capital from $25,000 to $50,000. D. W. Cheney is president and C. E. Canfield is cashier.

A big celebration was held at Phillips yesterday in honor of the anniversary of Phillips' rebuilding after the great fire.

Triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Timothy, settlers residing north of Grantsburg. The combined weight of the babies was twenty-two pounds.

Four months ago a pouch filled with mail from Marinette was missed. Yesterday it was found under a barn by children. The pouch was cut open and all the letters were gone.

Hallstones as large as walnuts did much damage at Marinette.

The remains of John Wilcox, who died at Long Beach, Cal., were brought to Dodgeville. He was an old resident of that city.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Andre of Kenosha are in a critical condition from ptomaine poisoning.

Railroad Building in Gulf States.
During recent years the most active center of railroad work has been the southern gulf states.

Lake Superior Iron Deposits.
Somebody has estimated that the Lake Superior iron deposits will be exhausted in twenty-five years.

Railroad Mileage.
There are seven miles of railroad for each 100 of area.

FEAR OF STRIKE IN COAL REGION

SPECIAL SESSION AT SCRANTON

Operators Refuse to Recognize Umpire Wright's Decision Regarding Deduction of Check Weighman's Wages as an Official Ruling.

Scranton, Pa., July 29.—There is grave fear that the executive board of district No. 1, United Mine Workers, will order a strike involving approximately 75,000 men when it meets in special session here next Monday to consider the question of the refusal of the coal companies to deduct check weighmen's wages.

The fear of a strike is heightened by the action of the Scranton Coal company in failing to make the deductions when paying at several of its collieries. The Scranton Coal company agreed to make the deductions after Umpire Carroll D. Wright in a letter to District President Nichols advised that the deductions should be made. A report from Wilkesbarre that the Temple Iron company would make the deductions could not be verified at the company's offices here.

Dispute on Umpire.
The meeting called for next Monday results from the dispute between the operators' and miners' respective representatives on the reconciliation board at the recent Wilkesbarre session as to whether or not Umpire Wright's ruling conveyed in a letter to one of the conciliators is binding.

The operators contended that it was not, as the question had not been regularly submitted through the conciliators to an umpire. The miners contended that the umpire had made a decision on the matter and that his ruling in the letter to Mr. Nichols was simply an interpretation of that ruling.

Whole Region Is Involved.
There is little hope of the reconciliation board reconvening and settling the matter, as the operators' representatives are otherwise engaged between now and Monday. If the strike is ordered it will probably affect the whole anthracite region, as the companies seem to be combined in resisting the demand, claiming it is tantamount to a recognition of the union.

Collieries Shut Down.
Mahanoy City, Pa., July 29.—The Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company has issued orders to shut down all of its collieries in the Schuylkill region from July 30 to Aug. 8 for the purpose of curtailing production.

INDICTMENTS FOR SLOCUM DISASTER

It Is Believed That the Federal Grand Jury Has Indicted Many of the Stock Company.

[Special by Scripps-Metier.] New York, July 29.—The federal grand jury which investigated the Slocum disaster reported today. The indictments are not yet given out, but it is understood among them are ones for Captain Van Schaack and Inspectors Lundberg and Fleming. It is believed three officers including the president of the steamboat company is also named in the indictments.

Dowager 'Empress' Makes Gift.
Pekin, July 29.—The dowager empress has given $7,500 to the medical college now being erected here by the Anglo-American mission.

Antique Methods of Farming.
Although the Brazilian state of Bahia is almost entirely an agricultural region, plows, harrows and cultivators are practically unknown there.

GOLDEN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

President of Teamsters' Union Arrested by Inspector Hunt, Then Released.

NEGROES REFUSE TO WORK LONGER

Police Have Frequent Clashes with the Workmen in the Yards and Outside--Shops Working Half Forces.

[Special by Scripps-Metier.] Chicago, July 29.—President George F. Golden of the teamsters' union was arrested and taken to the stockyards station this morning by Police Inspector Hunt. Golden was charged with intimidation. He stopped and turned back a wagon of meat which he suspected was intended for the Swift branch. Golden resister arrest and it took two officers to drag him to a cell. He was refused bail until the police court meets tomorrow morning. The cattle receipts have increased. The packers are said to be working fifty per cent of the normal output.

Refused to Work.
Seventy-five negro strike-breakers refused to work at Armour's plant this morning, claiming they were told the strike was over. The special police drove them from the yards into the hands of the strikers, who used them roughly. The police dispersed the crowd and sent the negroes downtown. President Golden was later released on a five hundred dollar bond, promising not to again interfere with wagons. Five strike sympathizers were arrested for overturning meat wagons in South Chicago.

At Omaha.
Omaha, Neb., July 29.—Pickets attempted to prevent twenty strike-breakers from getting into Swift's plant this morning. Two of them were knocked down by Swift's guard. Federal Judge Carland cited 150 strikers for an alleged contempt of the recent injunction.

At Kansas City.
Kansas City, Mo., July 29.—L. King, colored strike breaker, while going to work this morning was molested by a crowd of strikers. He shot Pat Lanesta and Matt Sullivan in the legs and was arrested. There is considerable disorder. The packers expected to apply for a federal injunction against the strikers. The police are guarding all plants.

Packers Claim Desertions.
Desertions from the union ranks were claimed by the packers and emphatic denials were entered by the union officials. The packers said that a number of their old men had returned in nearly every department and the union officials said that not a skilled worker had deserted, although they admitted that possibly a few unskilled laborers might have gone back to work.

The live stock handlers began to handle stock for all the packers, but did so on instructions from the union.

HORSEWHIPS SON WHO FAILS TO SAY PRAYERS

Des Moines Mother Insists That She Was Justified in Punishing Her Four-Year-Old Boy.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 29.—Hannah Jones was called to the residence of Mrs. Jacob Stein, who had been charged with having whipped her little four-year-old son with a buggy whip. She did not deny the accusation, but said she had a right to punish the child, and was justified because the lad refused to say his prayers.

She said this was the cause of the punishment. The officer could not make the woman promise to refrain from similar punishment in the future until he placed her under arrest and threatened to take her to the station. She then reluctantly promised and was released.

THROWN FROM HORSE AND HURT

Major Frank A. Denison Suffers Sprained Shoulder in Camp.

Springfield, Ill., July 29.—Governor's day at Camp Lincoln Thursday was marred by an accident. During the evening parade, when the Eighth regiment was being reviewed by Gov. Yates and staff, Maj. Frank A. Denison of Chicago, chief quartermaster of the Fourth brigade, was thrown from his horse and suffered a sprained shoulder, besides several cuts and bruises.

HAS PORT ARTHUR FALLEN, OR IS IT ONLY A CANARD?

[Special by Scripps-Metier.] Rome, July 29.—A rumor current here this evening is that Port Arthur has fallen. No confirmation is obtainable. It is reported Viceroy Alexioff will remove his headquarters to Vladivostok. Preparations are being made for his reception.

LAST WAR GOVERNOR LIES AT DEATH'S DOOR TODAY

Ex-Governor James T. Lewis Is Dying at His Home in Columbus---Not Expected To Live Through the Day.

Dispatches from Columbus this morning announce that ex-Governor Lewis, the last remaining of Wisconsin's war governors, is dying at his home and will probably not survive the day. He was born at Clarendon, N. Y., Oct. 29, 1819. One of his brothers was a distinguished soldier in the Mexican war—the first to scale the walls of Chapultepec, for which gallant feat he was presented with a sword. He came to Wisconsin in 1845 and began the practice of law at Columbus. At the age of 26 he was married to Miss Olive M. Sturges of Clarendon, N. Y., by whom he had four children. He held successively the positions of district attorney, county judge, member of the constitution convention, member of the general assembly, state senator, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and governor. As war governor he visited the hospitals of the south and secured the transfer of all the Wisconsin sick to hospitals within their own state. His wife died a year ago.

By the Hon. E. W. Keyes, Madison. The passing away of James T. Lewis of Columbus county will close out a remarkable career. But few, if any, of the early pioneers became more closely identified with the early settlement, growth and development of the territory and state than Mr. Lewis. He belonged to that sturdy class of men who early sought homes in the then far west, attracted by the bright promise which was held out to them by the forests and fields, lakes and streams of Wisconsin; and he selected for his abiding place many broad acres in the town and county of his residence. He was a lawyer, but did not exclusively devote himself to that business, although he was for several years district attorney and judge of his county, the first positions conferred upon him by his people.

In Constitution Convention. Judge Lewis was a member of the convention which framed the constitution of the state. He occupied a prominent position and rendered valuable service in that body. In 1852 he was a member of the assembly, and in the fall of that year he was elected to the senate, where he served during the session of 1853. At the democratic convention, held in Madison in 1852, he was nominated for lieutenant governor on the ticket headed by William A. Barstow, and with the balance of the ticket was elected, and filled that position during the year 1853 and 1855.

The success of the democratic ticket in 1853 ended democratic supremacy in the state until the election of the ticket headed by William R. Taylor in 1873.

Democrat of Old School. Judge Lewis was a democrat of the old school. Modern democracy never made any impression upon him. When the rebellion broke out in 1861, and during the exciting period in this state and country preceding it, his voice and influence was in favor of the maintenance of the union at whatever cost, and he was known throughout the state as a most pronounced union man, ready if necessary to abandon his democracy, and loose his association with the democratic party, and ally himself with the republican or any party, that was unconditionally in favor of maintaining the federal government.

Joined With Republicans. Preceding the assembling of the republican convention on the 25th of September, 1861, the union sentiment throughout the state was most pronounced, independent of the two old parties, and there was a strong disposition to unite upon one state ticket which would be satisfactory to the republican party, and at the same time afford a shelter for those democrats who could not under the circumstances consistently support the democratic ticket. In furtherance of this plan the leading war democrats in the state met in convention Sept. 10, 1861, at the capitol, and after a general consultation on the subject, adjourned the convention to Sept. 21, one day preceding the republican convention.

Still a Democrat. At this union convention among other nominations made was that of Hon. Henry L. Palmer of Milwaukee for secretary of state, but he declined the nomination and by unanimous consent Judge Lewis was substituted in his place, and the republican convention later ratified his nomination and made him its candidate for that position to which he was elected with the balance of the republican ticket. At that time Judge Lewis did not pretend he was a republican. He accepted the nomination as a war democrat, and was willing to sail under republican colors in the accomplishment of the great end which all loyal and patriotic people had, in view at that time, which was the maintenance of the federal union.

During his term of service as secretary of state, Judge Lewis had made himself very popular with the people. He had discharged the duties of his position with entire satisfaction, and the republican party had discovered that in him was to be found a man eminently well qualified for higher preferment at its hands. Judge Lewis declined a renomination for the position of secretary of state, which would have been accorded him unanimously.

Nominated for Governor. Still wishing to give due recognition to the war democratic element, and render certain the success of the ticket, as there was a narrow margin in the state, the leading republicans concluded that it would be good policy to nominate Judge Lewis as candidate for governor, and he was accordingly brought out as such candidate.

MANY BADGERS ON THE LUCKY LIST

Chamberlain Drawing for the First Day Increases the Excitement for the Lands.

Several Wisconsin people were lucky enough to draw allotments of lands at the first day's drawing of the Rosebud agency yesterday. Janesville was not on the list but the lightning struck all around and may hit the Beaver city fliers today.

Following are names, numbers and addresses of Wisconsin people who were successful in drawing Rosebud lands yesterday:

85—H. G. Baughn, Elkhorst.
322—Martins Jensen, Clinton.
121—Christie Payne, Superior.
123—C. A. Roddy Milwaukee.
259—William A. Kemp, Jr., Livingston.
298—Howard L. McNeil, Cuba City.
195—Edwin K. Krall, Hildred.
179—Richard Powers, Superior.
187—Frank D. Thompson, La Crosse.
335—C. S. McCullough, Phillips.
478—H. C. Colon, River Falls.
491—Russell Hartman, Brookhead.
537—William S. Heep, Madison.
560—William J. Klug, Genoa Junction.
606—William H. Miller, Milwaukee.
621—Thomas McMahon, Hager City.

An hour before the time appointed for the drawing to begin there was a crowd of 800 or 1,000 persons surrounding the building in which the registered names were to be drawn. Promptly at 9 o'clock United States Land Commissioner Richards inaugurated proceedings by announcing the rules that were to govern the drawing. The huge "wheel" which held the names of hopeful aspirants for quarter sections was a box ten feet long by thirty-one inches through. A red running the entire length of the box was rigged with crankhandles by which the box could be turned. At 9:20 o'clock the entire registration had been thoroughly mixed and placed in the box. Eight boys were selected to serve on alternate days. Lucky Sommers drew the lot, which named him as the first to draw from the box.

Shortly after 10 o'clock, at a signal from the commissioner, Young Sommers inserted his hand into the box and drew out the first envelope which he handed the commissioner. The commissioner tore open the envelope, and announced "William McCormick, Lancaster county, Nebraska."

One thousand names were drawn yesterday, at the conclusion of which the drawing was adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

EDGERTON IS TO HAVE A BIG DAY

Father Matthew's T. A. & B. Society To Hold Annual Picnic at Race Park on August 10.

Father Matthew's T. A. & B. Society will hold their annual picnic at the Edgerton race park, Wednesday, August 10. Rev. Father J. J. Collins of Fond du Lac, for many years assistant pastor of St. Mary's church in Janesville, will give the annual temperance address. There will be a parade in the morning followed by a baseball game between the Madison Defenders and the Milton Crescents. Dinner will be served by the Ladies' Aid society of St. Joseph's church. There will be horse and foot races in the afternoon and a free for all trot of mile heats will be run off for a purse of two hundred dollars. Liberal purses have also been put up for the other events and the foot races. Smith's orchestra will furnish the music for the grand ball in the evening.

BAND CONCERT WAS WELL APPRECIATED

Large Crowd Listened to the Sweet Strains of Imperial Musicians.

There was a big crowd out to listen to the band concert on the Corn Exchange last evening. The program seemed rather shorter than usual but was enjoyed by the large gathering.

You Have But to Ask. And you can purchase a ticket to Philadelphia or New York that will take you via Washington and that will allow you two days stop over at the national capital if your tickets read over the Pennsylvania. Short lines, and this ticket will cost you no more than one reading over the direct route. Through sleeper Chicago to Washington on No. 8 leaving Chicago union station daily at 3:00 p. m. Write Geo. R. Thompson, 33 Michigan St., Milwaukee, Wis., for further particulars.

Real Estate Transfers. E. A. Bomier and wife to Peter A. Hamerlund, lot 27, 24 25 Carriage. Wheeler & Whiteheads add, Janesville, Vol. 16641, $3,500.00.

Nancy Mead to Thomas C. Connel, and wife, lot 133 Mechanics add, Beloit, Vol. 16641, $225.00.

Theresa P. Phelicker and husband to William A. Morris, $800.00. P. block 3-Kings add Beloit, Vol. 16641, $800.00.

Second Congregational Society Beloit to Second Congregational church Beloit, $100.00. Lots 12, 10, Walkers add, Beloit, Vol. 16641, $800.00.

George W. Maxworthy and wife to Leon D. Chittcott, lot 4-1 Strong's 2nd add, Beloit, $700.00.

Lizzie C. Lagerman et al to Geo. E. Townsend, lot 25, Mitchells 3rd add, Janesville, $2,500.00.

George H. Hammett and wife to Alvin L. Chapman, lot 9, 8-3 Blodgett and King's add, Beloit, Vol. 158 Q. C. D., $100.00.

John D. Davlin, Houston—Was all run down; nothing did me any good until I got hold of Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Now I am strong and well; gained forty pounds. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. Smith Drug Co.

COMPLETE TABLE OF THE VOTERS

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION BY COUNTIES GIVEN.

FIGURES THAT ARE CORRECT

Majority of the Delegates at the Cook Convention in Madison.

Some days ago the Gazette received a communication dated Orfordville asking what the total vote was at the La Follette convention and at the republican convention. At that time a list was published and a vote was taken at the two conventions was set down. This morning the following request comes in which the Gazette is only too pleased to publish:

To the Editor: Will you kindly publish the vote by county of the convention that nominated Cook?

In answer to the above request the following is printed for the benefit of those who do not consider the matter has been already sufficiently.

The committee on credentials appointed by the Fuller opera house convention reported that there were 1,065 delegates who were entitled to seats. The roll was called and the following delegates were reported present from the counties named, the counties from which no delegates responded being omitted from this table:

Counties	No. Delegates	Present
Ashland	12	12
Brown	19	11
Calumet	7	7
Columbia	19	9
Dodge	19	19
Door	9	9
Franklin	18	18
Fond du Lac	26	26
Gauche	2	2
Grant	22	11
Green Lake	8	8
Iron	5	5
Jefferson	15	15
Kenosha	12	12
Kewaunee	7	7
La Crosse	21	11
Langlade	6	6
Lincoln	9	9
Manitowish	17	17
Marathon	19	19
Marquette	17	9
Marquette	6	6
Milwaukee	146	105
Oconto	11	11
Outagamie	21	21
Ozaukee	5	5
Pepin	4	4
Pierce	14	14
Rock	32	32
St. Croix	13	13
Sauk	18	18
Shawano	13	13
Sheboygan	24	10
Union	6	6
Walworth	30	29
Washington	10	10
Waushara	20	10
Winnebago	30	30

The foregoing table is made from the original copy of the roll call, which was made by counties, districts, and wards, in some cases the chairman of the delegates from his district or ward who were present; in others the report was simply "present," and the total number from that district or ward was enrolled.

For the information of "A. H. B." the following quotation by Attorney Olin for the consideration of the republican national convention and its committee is made, as it deals with the subject under consideration clearly and succinctly.

In pursuance of said announcement, there assembled at the time and place stated 554 legally elected and duly accredited delegates to the republican state convention. These delegates proceeded to organize, under the said call of the state central committee, the republican convention for the state of Wisconsin by electing a temporary chairman and a temporary secretary, and by the appointing of a committee on credentials.

The committee, after due deliberation, made its report to said convention, organized, reporting that there had been elected and were entitled to seats in said convention 1,065 delegates; that there was a contest presented to the committee as to the right of the duly accredited delegates from the county of St. Croix to seats in the convention; that after a hearing upon said contest it was the opinion of the committee that the contestant delegates were entitled to seats, and the committee recommended that such delegates be seated. Thereupon the facts in relation to said contest in the county of St. Croix were laid before the convention, and, on motion, the report of the committee, together with the recommendation as to the delegates from the county of St. Croix, was unanimously adopted. A motion was then made that the temporary organization of the convention be made permanent, and, upon the calling of the roll of the convention, it showed that there were present as duly elected delegates and entitled to seats therein 567, which number included the delegates seated from St. Croix county.

This we think answers all sides of the question. Had the case been a weak one and the Gazette desirous of hiding the facts the answer could have been made in generalities instead of figures and facts.

Miss Ada Williams is visiting Miss Mamie Paul at Rock river.

Bert Bilsch. Private funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock over the remains of the late Bert Bilsch at his home on Racine street. Rev. J. T. Henderson conducted the services and the remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were John H. Jones, Fred Koehlin, Frank Palmer and John Koehlin.

ELGIN BUTTER MARKET (Special Telegram.) Elgin, Ill., July 25.—In the butter market 125 tubs were offered and 25 were sold. Market firm at 15c. Output, 332,600.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workingman.

One permanent result of the strike conditions in the building trades at Detroit, Mich., will be the number of new firms that have started into existence. These new master plumbers, painters and sheet metal workers are merely striking unionists who have had enterprise to start in and capture some of the work that was "going begging," during the strike. The venture proved so profitable that they continued their own shops after the strike was ended, hiring union men at union wages, and competing with their former employers.

50,000 meat cutters and butchers were on a strike in Chicago and the other packing centers of the country last week. The strikers demanded: A uniform wage scale, the minimum pay for unskilled labor to be 18 1/2 cents an hour; a ten-hour day; the making of the present maximum scale to be the future minimum scale; agreements for all departments. Their demands were granted.

A deputation from the combined iron trade unions in New South Wales, Australia, interviewed the acting premier recently, and urged that in future all locomotives required by the state railways should be manufactured at the state railway workshops at Eveleigh, as recommended by the recent Royal Commission.

Newspaper and Mail Drivers' Union scale with a ten-hour schedule and an increase averaging 25 percent in wages with a concession of two legal holidays in the year, has been adopted by the newspaper publishers of New York City.

The Executive Board of the Western Federation is considering the advisability of removing the headquarters of that organization from Denver, probably to Lead, S. D.

Gardening is taught in nearly all the primary and elementary schools in France.

The Delaware and Hudson Railroad will in the future employ no one under twenty-one or over thirty-five years old.

SHE IS A CLEVER WOMAN—

Who can fill the hostess' part to perfection.

Opinions differ as to what constitute an ideal hostess, but according to a number of women who went over the question over the telegraph at a tea here are some of the indispensable qualities she must possess:

She must make you feel individually that you are the favored guest.

She must make you feel perfectly at home.

She must see everything and yet possess the art of seeming to see nothing.

She must never look bored.

She must always be able to keep the conversational ball rolling.

She must never let any one be slighted or overlooked.

She must know just when to ask the amateur musician to display her talents.

She must not neglect her guests and at the same time must not give them too much of her own society.

She must remember that nothing is so tiresome, so surely death to all enjoyment, as the feeling that one is being entertained.

The Commercial Law League of America, in session at West Baden, Ind., yesterday elected S. T. Bledsoe of Ardmore, I. T., president, and voted to remove the national headquarters from Washington to New York.

Calumet Baking Powder

Perfect in quality. Moderate in price.

GET IN LINE!

New Electric Park

opens Monday Night, Aug. 1

All Star Vaudeville Features

5—BIG ACTS—5

Kennison Sisters—Sensational Dancers
Orville Pitcher—Blackface Comedian
Karl Bantik—Silvertoned Baritone

NEW ILLUSTRATED SONGS. Biograph
Special Feature—The European Novelty
GRAT 11:15 P. M.

Orchestra. Concert from 7:30 till 9:30 p. m. Extra chance of performers each week. Compensated Pollen Fever.

Street cars leave Main and Milwaukee streets every 5 minutes beginning at 7 p. m. for round trip on cars and includes admission to the park.

Watch for our big out door act next week

IN THE POLITICAL WORLD

Congressman A. H. Jackson yesterday declined the nomination for a second term in the thirteenth Ohio district. He was officially notified of his nomination by Lieutenant Governor Harding and a committee, but declined it.

About thirty members of the democratic national committee were the guests of J. H. McDonald and made a trip through the subway system of New York city. The party took luncheon at the Claremont, near Grant's tomb.

Arrangements have been completed whereby Thomas Watson of Georgia, the populist nominee for president, will open his campaign in Nebraska at Lincoln Aug. 10. Lincoln is the home of Thomas Tibbles, the vice presidential nominee on the populist ticket.

Daniel Lucien Crumpacker was renominated for state senator and Gus Greiger was named for joint representative by the republicans of La Porte and Stark counties, Indiana. Crumpacker and Greiger will support Congressman Crumpacker for United States senator.

The republican and democratic state conventions of Massachusetts will be held in Boston on the same day, Oct. 7. If the vote taken by a subcommittee of the democratic executive committee is ratified by the state committee. The republicans have selected Oct. 7.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpelide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water? If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of dandruff and to prevent hair loss by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Yucca, Glycine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpelide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots. It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy, Special Agents.

To Your Order

As you like them!

Choice of 65 Pair Trousers

$5.00

See Our West Window. Saturday and Monday Only.

30 Beautiful Suit Patterns at $20.00

These Goods Are The Closing of Our Summer Line. You Don't Get a Chance Like It Often.

J. L. FORD & SON

New Rugs Out of Old Carpets.

HYGIENIC CARPET RENOV. CO., 401 W. Van Buren St., Chicago, Ill. S. J. SARKEYS, Prop.

Send us your old carpets and pieces, and we will return you handsome new rugs. Write for information. Best of references. Oriental rugs repaired by natives.

Janesville Steam Dye Works

Clothing Dry Cleaned or Dyed

Also Laces and Camille Curtains, Organdies, Silks, etc.

CARL BROCKHAUS,

East Milwaukee St. New Phone.

Suits To Order

Over 500 Latest Patterns. Union made. Satisfaction guaranteed.

JOHN WEISS.

EVERYTHING BUT THE ICE

In a package of JELLO ICE CREAM POWDER for making delicious ice cream. Simply add a quart of milk for milk and cream mixed to the contents of one package and freeze. No cooking or frowning. This is the time of year when ice cream takes better than anything else you can put on the table. Order today from your grocer. Two packages 25 cents.

PURE AND SPARKLING IS BUOB'S Star Export Beer.

ORDER BY 'PHONE, NOS. 141

Crystal Lake Ice

IT'S PURE!
Enough Said
Badger Coal Co.
Phone 76.

Ice Cream Soda or Sundae with Crushed Fruits Only 5 cents.

We make our own ice cream, guarantee it pure, and serve you the best in the city.

Janesville Candy Kitchen

157 West Milwaukee St.

CEMENT WORK

I build the best kind of cement walks, cement foundations, cement curbs—in fact all kinds of cement work and guarantee it. My prices are worth investigating.

B. P. CROSSMAN
Telephone 602 65 Palm St.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. JAMES MILLS,

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat a Specialty

GLASSES ACCURATELY FITTED.
Office over Hall, Sayles & Field
25 West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.
Phone—New, 121; Old, 164.

G. W. REEDER, LAWYER,

Justice of the Peace.

Room 4, Carpen'er Block, - - Janesville

Dr. Frederick C. Lindstrom

OSTEOPATH

Office Hours 9 to 12—2 to 5.
Suite 322-23 Hayes Block
Telephone 129 JANEVILLE

CEMENT WORK.

Walks, Foundations, Curbs, and all kinds of Cement Work. I guarantee satisfactory work. Estimates furnished. Prices right.

E. RICE

Call at Builders' Exchange, Jackson Block or J. R. Baker's Drug Store.

Dr. T. F. KENNEDY

Dentist

Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

HOURS—9:00 a. m. to 12:00 m. 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.
Wednesday and Saturday Evenings.

59 W. Milwaukee St. JANEVILLE

Suits To Order

Over 500 Latest Patterns. Union made. Satisfaction guaranteed.

JOHN WEISS.

GUN SHOOT AT ATHLETIC PARK

CRACK SHOTS FROM SEVERAL CITIES HERE.

SOME GOOD SCORES MADE

Price of Madison, Campbell of Monroe, Inman, Wilcox and McVicar, of Janesville, Show Good Form.

Nearly all of the crack shots of Janesville are attending the big shoot at Athletic park today. The visiting sportsmen arrived early this morning and the contests with the clay pigeons commenced at nine.
Under a little awning on the north side of the field the score keeper was busy with the records and the cases of carbonated soft drinks which were kept in readiness under these headquarters tent were well patronized between the matches.

Several Visitors Here
Among the visitors were: W. C.
Price, C. F. Ford and E. L. Ross of Madison; W. A. Drumb, E. J. Brown and G. W. Mason of Grand Rapids; W. T. Campbell and L. Dodge of Monroe; F. G. Root and A. B. Comstock of Albany; C. E. Shannon of Edgerton; and Max Henseler of Battle Creek, Mich., representative of the Union Metal Cartridge and the Remington Arms companies. The Janesville shooters who were on the grounds this morning were: L. H.
McVicar, C. W. Wilcox, Wm. McVicar,
H. A. Inman, J. L. Wilcox, E. A.
Kronmeyer, H. G. Carter, O. F. Kienow,
J. W. Ecklin, and Charles Tallman.
Many more were expected this afternoon.

POLICEMEN GUARD BIG CIRCUSES

Noted Agency Has Contract with the Barnum & Bailey Show for This Year.

Next week the big Barnum & Bailey circus comes to the city, and as usual there is the same lot of queries among the officers as to whether there are thieves and burglars in the show. Many people believe these men travel with the circus and ply their vocation while they are off duty. In some cases this may be true, but generally the men conducting the shows use every endeavor to protect the citizens of the places where they may exhibit, and some of the best chief catchers in the country are employed by the circus people to stay with the circus and detect if possible who may be in the city at the time.

The men who do the crooked work sometimes manage to steal their rides on the cars of the circus, hiding under wagons after they have been loaded or getting into the horse cars.

OLD STYLE CIRCUS TRAVELING BY ROAD

Headed Janesville From Kilbourn City This Morning—Visited by the Special Treasury Agent.

The B. C. Collins allied shows hall-ing from Maquoketa, Iowa, arrived over the road in two prairie schoom-ers drawn by frisky mules this morning. Special Treasury Agent Stanley F. Tallman immediately called upon the management to show their state license and the same was produced.
After making a similar request of the wildlife owners, he departed for Evanston where an itinerant auctioner has hung out the red flag without the necessary authority. The circus has a collection of trained birds and curios stowed away under the canvas covered wagons.

WHITEHEAD WILL BE THE ORATOR

Hon. John M. Whitehead, state senator, of Janesville, has consented to be in Broadhead July 31, and present an address Sunday morning at the Congregational church on the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. The senator is quite as much at home in matters pertaining to the church as in matters of the state, and we can assure all the pleasure of hearing a helpful and instructive address.—Broadhead Register.

THE WEATHER

Temperature last 24 hours (taken from U. S. registered thermometer at Helmstreet's drugstore: highest,
86 above; lowest, 60; ther. at 7 a. m., 67; at 3 p. m., 81; wind, south; clear-ant.

LODGE MEETINGS TONIGHT

Canton Janesville No. 9, Patriarchs Millant, at West Side Odd Fellows' hall.
Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, at East Side Odd Fellows' hall.
People's Lodge No. 460, I. O. G. T., at Good Templars' hall.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

Cut flowers for sale, 105 Cornelia St.
$2.95 buys the best oxford in our house tomorrow; any size, any style,
$2.95 choice. Amos Rehberg & Co.
$1.95 for $2.50 and $3 oxfords tomorrow at Amos Rehberg & Co's.
Only a few more boxes of soap left.
Saturday and Monday will about clean up all soap left from the great soap sale on record in Janesville.
Van Kirk closing out sale.
Bargains in shoes. "Talk to Lowell."
J. M. Hostwick & Sons' big July clearing sale closes July 30th, Saturday night.
For finest meats "Talk to Lowell."
We have some splendid bargains on teas and coffees—best the market affords. Van Kirk closing out sale.
J. M. Hostwick & Sons' big July
clearing sale closes July 30th, Saturday night.
Oxfords tomorrow at Rehberg &
Co.
Your unlimited choice for any $3.50, $4 or $5 oxford in our store tomorrow, $2.95. Amos Rehberg &
Co.
Flour, about 50 sacks, at much less than wholesale cost. Van Kirk closing out sale.
A special meeting of the Twentieth Century History class will be held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Helmstreet, North Main street, on Monday, Aug.
1 at 2 p. m., for the distribution of the study outlines for 1904-05, and for the payment of the annual dues.
L. E. Cowles, Pres.
Don't forget Rehberg's greatest oxford sale tomorrow.
Only a small lot of that toilet soap left. Ten bars, 5 cents. Van Kirk closing out sale.
$2.95, Rehberg's great oxford sale
tomorrow.
District Attorney W. A. Jackson returned last evening from a week's business trip to Marquette, Michigan, and other cities of the upper peninsula.

FAIR STORE

20 lbs. Granulated Sugar, (with grocery order)$1 50 lbs. Best Flour Made$1.25
Rich, Mild, New Cheese, lb.12c
All the Fresh Eggs You Want, doz. 16c Large Cooking Raisins, 7c lb.; 4 for25c
Seeded Raisins, lb.8c
15c Bottle Club House Ketchup, 10c
Best Can Tomato, 7c; 4 for25c
Best Can Peas, 7c; 4 for25c
Nice Large Lemons, doz.20c
3-lb. Can Blackberries, 10c; 3 for 25c
Can Pink Salmon5c
Stappenhach's Mince Ham10c
Our 25c Coffee Guaranteed Equal to Any High Price Coffee in the City.
Tea a lb. of our 40c Jap Tea and Compare it With Any 50c Tea in the City.
For Meats We Lead Them All in Quality and Price.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Mrs. W. O. Mills is visiting friends at Lodi.
Miss Leola May Slocum is visiting in Milwaukee.
Fred Vance of Beloit was in the city yesterday.
Miss Nellie Quirk has returned from a visit in Chicago.
James Langdon has been visiting several days in Orfordville.
Vernon Murdock and Mr. Young left yesterday for a visit in Chicago.
A. S. Douglass of Monroe transacted business in the city Wednesday.
Miss Bessie Squires of Eau Claire is visiting Miss Grace Wright at 156
South Jackson street.
Charles Cunningham of Chicago is visiting at the home of his brother, Jerome C. Cunningham.
Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Lawson left yesterday for a visit with friends and relatives in Fond du Lac.
Miss Otto of Freeport, Ill., is visiting in the city at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. John M. Kneff.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Stoddard were among the Janesville visitors at Delavan lake yesterday.
Mrs. F. L. Dittmer, of Chicago is visiting at the home of her mother Mrs. Edward Griffin, North street.
Mrs. E. T. Lapierre and children of Beloit are visiting Mrs. Lapierre's father, E. T. Brown, for a few weeks.
Dr. H. G. Hiney, formerly of this city, and now of Star Lake, is greeting his Janesville friends today.
Mrs. E. P. Aspinwall and two daughters from Buffalo, N. Y., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Piny Norcross.
Miss Catharine Crowley who has been attending the Rush Temple Conservatory of Music in Chicago has returned to Janesville.
Dr. G. W. Thuerer returned yesterday from a visit at his home in Baraboo. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Anna Thuerer.
The Messes Marks of Chicago are visiting in the city, the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.
C. Roelke, South Main street.
Mrs. Stever Field and daughter, Blanche, of Racine are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kulppenberg of North Hickory street.
Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Harrington have returned from Green Lake.
There will be services in Christ church Sunday at 8:00 and 10:30
a. m.
The many friends of Mr. and Mrs.
G. D. Cannon will be pleased to hear that their daughter, Sylvia, who has been ill with appendicitis, is improving slowly.
Mrs. Frank C. Wright and family of Oak Park, Ill., are guests of Mrs.
W. S. Pond. Mr. Wright who is a former Janesville resident, is expected tomorrow.
Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ryan returned to their home in Chicago yesterday after spending several days in the city the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
George Perkins.
Mr. and Mrs. John Birmingham, of Chicago, arrived in the city yesterday to attend the funeral of the late Michael Birmingham.
E. S. Taylor, who has been in Waverly and Helmet, Kansas, arrived home last evening. Mrs. Taylor attended in Chicago to visit a daughter, whom she found quite ill.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ryan of Eli-horn, S. D., who have been visiting at the home of John Smith on Racine street, returned to their home yesterday. Mr. Ryan is editor of the Eli-horn Leader. Miss Julia Ryan remains to visit with Miss Margaret Smith.
J. C. Rood, John Gordon and C. R.
Robinson of Beloit came up this afternoon to attend the Janesville Gun club meet.

LEARNED SOMETHING MORE

We supposed that all bread made at home was good or pretty good,
but we find that much of the home made bread is poor, dry and tasteless, and that a good bread maker is a secret. We have the best bread maker in the state and you can get of us the most perfect bread made, as long as we can keep him at work. We could sell 1,000 loaves a day if we could get it baked. Our price for a while yet is 4c a loaf.
Wine drops, the most delicious, rich, flaky drop cake, by our secret recipes, 10c doz.
Elegant late black cherries, 15c
qt.

FAIR PRICES

Fancy big pineapples, 20c each.
Beautiful Delaware grapes, 15c lb.
Beautiful green grapes, 15c lb.
Rockyford melons, guaranteed sweet as a melon ever grew, 10c each.
Fancy watermelons, 25 and 30c
each.
Fancy California pears, 25c doz.
Spring chickens and ducks, 25c to 40c each.
Fresh short ribs of beef, 6c &
Best hard, 5-lb. pails, 50c.
Cold cooked pressed ham, 15c lb.
Baked ham, 30c lb.
Baked loin of pork, 30c lb.
Cooked corn beef, 18c lb.
GRUBB PRODUCE CO.

PIANO TUNING

Careful work done by Janes-ville's well known tuner.
S. E. EGDTVET
Leave orders at Janesville Music Co.
New Phone 786.

FILE PROTEST THIS MORNING

RESENT USE OF FLASHBOARDS ON THE DAM.

PROPERTY OWNERS FILE SAME

Ash That They Be Removed From the Upper Dam at Once—Formal Notice Given.

This morning's formal protest was served upon the committee in charge of the upper dam and the owners and lessees of the water power derived therefrom, that the flash boards used on the dam in times of low water should at once be removed, as it was injuring property above the dam. The protest was served by Ruger & Ruger, attorneys for H.
Richardson and Victor P. Richardson, and was as follows:

To the committee in charge of the upper dam in the city of Janesville and of the water power created thereby, and to each of them, and to each owner or lessee of the right to draw and use water from said water power:

You are hereby notified that the undersigned owners of a portion of the bed and bank of Rock river which is situated up stream from your dam and which is commonly called "the island," protest against the placing or maintenance of flash boards upon said dam and against the raising, in any manner, of the crest of said dam, and we hereby demand that you and each of you immediately desist and refrain from placing or maintaining or causing or allowing to be placed or maintained, flash boards upon said dam and from raising in any manner the crest of said dam.

H. RICHARDSON,
VICTOR P. RICHARDSON.

The committee upon whom the protest was served consisted of M.
G. Jeffers, P. H. Korst, N. C. Carle,
F. H. Hodge and the owners represented in the Janesville Electric company, the Janesville Sash and Door company, and the Hodge Milling company. Just what action will be taken further in the matter if the flashboards are not removed is not yet decided, but the present protest would pave the way for a suit on the subject if they are not removed.

OLD SOLDIER HAS PLEASANT TASK

READS HIS OWN OBITUARY NO-TICE THIS AFTERNOON.

WAS THOUGHT TO HAVE DIED

Forty-Three Years Ago at the Battle of Bull Run—Oramel Wilcox Visiting Old Neighbors.

Forty-three years ago tomorrow Oramel Wilcox, then a member of Company D, Second Wisconsin volunteers, was reported as dead in the Saturday issue of the Gazette. This afternoon Mr. Wilcox had the pleasure of reading his own obituary notice, written by A. F. Wade, the orderly sergeant of the company. Few men live forty-three years after they are supposed to have died. Mr. Wilcox now lives at Long Beach, California, and is in Janesville visiting friends and relatives.

LAND PRICES ARE HURTING CHANCE

NEW RAILROAD MAY SKIP SOUTH.
ERN WISCONSIN.

PLANNED TO REACH ROCKFORD

Property Holders Value Their Land at Almost Prohibitive Prices, or Refuse to Sell.

Beloit may yet fail to be on the line of the proposed Illinois, Iowa & Minnesota railway, which is said to be changing its original plans because of the high prices of property in the route desired in passing through Rockford, and Janesville will be further away from the proposed freight line than ever. The road had intended to pass through that city and turn to the north after passing the western limits and strike Beloit.

The company has run up against some of the highest priced property in its experience in seeking an entrance into Rockford and getting a terminal on the west side of the river and the line of its survey has been blocked at a number of points by a refusal to sell or a price so high that it is prohibitive.

The officers express themselves as not caring greatly whether they cross the river or not, and a new survey has been started, leaving the present line and passing east of that city, close to the outskirts. The road is merely a freight road, a belt line, anyway, and arrangements can be made for reciprocal switching accommodations such as exist now between the other lines. The yards will then be located east of Rockford and transfers will be made from and to the various roads from there.

The new plan, if carried out, will call for a route passing north on the east side of the river instead of off the west side. In fact, the company will save the cost of one or two bridges.

The company has not cared to enter into condemnation proceedings more than absolutely needed, and if the new route offers no difficulties it will be followed.

PATENTS ISSUED

R. W. Bishop, patent attorney, Washington, D. C., reports the issue of the following patents on the 26th instant to residents of Wisconsin:

765,671, Mechanical eraser, R. T.
Merrill, Milwaukee.

765,702, Separator for threshing-machines, Rowland Davies, Ulen.

765,719, Clothes-drier, B. C. Steffens, Lagrange.

765,748, Insect-catcher and plant-sprayer, H. J. Noll, Milwaukee.

765,951, Manure-loader, John Albrecht, Middleton.

765,984, Foot for crutches or canes,
J. W. Morris and G. J. Luck, Milwaukee.

766,016, Tabular boiler, Charley Holy, Beaver, assignor of three-fourths to H. A. Tagatz, same place.

766,019, Exercising device, W.
H. Chellis and F. W. McNary, Racine.

766,157, Machine for burring railway connecting-plates, R. H. Charlton, Milwaukee, assignor to Continuous Rail Joint Co. of America, of New Jersey.

JANESVILLE COAL CO.

Phone 89. Office, Riverside Laundry, Yards, South River & Oak Sts.

Mexican Beans

The best procurable are used in making the vanilla used in

Shurtleff Ice Cream

Every ice cream contains vanilla and pure vanilla is essential in pure ice cream Costs more but it pays.

Phone your order for Ice Cream.

Phones 184.

THE SHURTLEFF CO.

Cold Drives

ARE COMING.

Lehigh, Scranton, or Schuylkill Coal

help wonderfully after a cold drive,

July Price, $8.50.

Both Phones 201.
Yard Phone 65.

F. A. TAYLOR,

59 South River Street.

For Baking

A Gas Oven is Best.

You have perfect control of the heat.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Milwaukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

COAL

Now is the time to fill your bin
with our choice SCRANTON COAL
at summer prices.

J. F. SPOON & CO.

City office, corner River and Mil-
waukee Sts. Yard office, North
River St. New Phone 655, Old
Phone 536

The Substitute

By WILL N. HARBEN.

Author of "Abner Daniel," "The Land of the Changing
Sun," "The North Walk
Mystery," Etc.

Copyright, 1903, by HARPER & BROTHERS

CHAPTER VIII.—(Continued.)

"Yes, an' that ain't all; he's got every mousin' over that down on 'im. He informed on some of 'em while he was out of his head an' now there's no tellin' what it will end. Somebody shot at 'im while he was in the field, other day—some skunk in the woods, afraid to show himself."

"That's pretty bad," said George sympathetically. "Jeff ought to be more cautious."

"As Truitt was leaving, Mrs. Hillyer walked in, her gray shawl wrapped tightly round her body."

"Come for money to run the house on," she said, with a laugh, to her husband. "No, thank you, I won't set down," she added to Kenner, who was offering her his chair. "The truth is, I'm goin' to steer clear o' this house. Mrs. Dugan says all the reports in the town 'bout started among you uns. If she knew I came here she'd lay it on me. I thought for a while, after they lifted her quarantine, that she was goin' to do different, but she's wuss 'an ever. I saved 'er off short yesterday, though. Mrs. Hillyer laughed heartily. "You know, Mr. Kenner, she's got one tale that she tells over an' over constantly. One of the longest winded yarns you ever heard, about how she just got acquainted with a woman she met by accident. She forgot she told it twenty times, an' just takes 'er chair an' begins to unwind. So far nobody hadn't been bold enough to say they'd heard it before, but when I seed her comin' through the gate yesterday I told her of the dare'd to spring that old gas on me agin I'd stop 'er if it cost me my life. I thought her tense an' die laughin', fer Mrs. Dugan had no sooner 'n set down than she began to tell about how she just met the woman. Well, I'd made my bet, an' I wasn't goin' to be beat. 'Hold on,' said I; 'right here I want to tell you some'n. Mrs. Dugan—some'n powerful queer about me. I believe, on my soul, I've got second sight.' 'Second sight,' says she, in her mean way, 'why, I didn't think you was quite old enough to have your second sight.' 'I don't mean that sort o' second sight,' says I; 'but I've noticed sometimes when a body would begin a tale I could see clean to the end of it long before the end was reached. Now,' says I, 'see if I ain't right; the next time you met that woman was at the county fair, whar she took first prize on her patch quilt, an' with that I finished out her yarn, as pat as it was one o' my own brag tales. Lord, wasn't she hot! She got as red as a ripe tomato. 'I wasn't goin' to tell that,' says she; 'I remember tellin' you that. I was goin' to git round to some'n else; but, since you are so almighty smart, I reckon I'll go on about my business, an' with that she thirted out o' the house, an' kicked the dog as she went by it on the porch. When a woman's mad enough to kick a dog her dander's dyin' in 'er eyes.' Mrs. Hillyer laughed as she thrust her red hand from beneath her shawl and took the money the merchant was giving her. 'Don't git married, Mr. Kenner,' she said. 'A woman will either keep you nose to the grindstone with 'er mouth shut, or talk you to death—or both.'"

Kenner snailingly walked with her to the outer door. "I was just a wonderin', Mrs. Hillyer, whar you think about George's case with that high-falootin' Virginia girl. I'm interested in that boy, an' it looks like a pity to me to have 'im lookin' in that direction—I mean jest that particular direction."

"I know what you mean, Mr. Kenner," the woman shuddered in the keen, cool breeze—"but do you reckon it's any more'n friendship on his side?"

"That's what I'm botherin' about," answered the cotton buyer. "I don't let on to George, of course, but I've been watchin' him powerful close. He wants everybody to think him an' her jest pussin' friends; but, law me, sometimes when he thinks nobody ain't a-lookin' he gets off his guard. One day, while he was at work on his books, she happened to ride past on that frisky mare o' hers. The animal got scared at the pullin' o' the compress over that an' began to cut up. The saddle girth broke, an' she fell in a ditch. She wasn't hurt one speck, an' seven or eight o' my men at the compress ran out an' helped 'er up, but George must 'a' thought she was, fer he turned as white as a sheet an' trembled all over as he made a break for the spot, an' when he seed no harm had come to her his face actually puffed out, an' he couldn't speak. An' she was watchin' 'im too. She was perfectly cool an' lookin' at him just like she was enjoyin' his excitement. She axed 'im one or two questions, an' it looked to me like she was jest doin' it becuse he wasn't in the condition to reply."

"Mrs. Hillyer laughed. "You ort to 'a' been a woman, Mr. Kenner. I didn't know any man alive could notice like that. But do you reckon the pore young man ever hopes to you know whar I mean?"

"That's the pretty part of it," said Kenner, with no little feeling. "It looks to me like he hadn't never dreamt of marryin', like he was jest satisfied to let things go on as they are. If I'm any judge, that is the most dangerous sort o' love, of a body kin call it that."

"I'll say this for 'er," said Mrs. Hillyer seriously. "I don't think she is a woman that n'd handle a man's affections lightly jest for the fun o' the thing. An' sometimes I think she is doin' jest like you say George is—jest a-lettin' the thing pull 'er along, knowin', as she does, that he ain't the man 'er folks ud accept. So you think George really is interested in 'er?"

"That hadn't the word for it," said Kenner. "As fer her bein' above 'im in station, whar does that matter to him? I've never seed his equal fer pride an' self respect. I believe of a really refined young man is put in low surroundin's he'll make a finer creature sometimes than he was put among the best. No, George can't hide his feelings. I think maybe he had some hope before his father's disgrace, but he ain't now. Thar was a tobacco drummer from Virginia in the office other day, an' he got to runnin' on, like them sort o' men will, to me an' Hanks. George was writin' letters at the desk. The drummer begun tellin' us about bein' astonished to see folks like the Cranstons in this out of the way place. He said Miss Lydia was the belle o' Richmond society an' had big public men runnin' after 'er. He said our governor—you know Governor Telfair—is a widower about my age—well, he met 'er at some military encampment down south an' is dead bent on marryin' her. I wanted to stop the feller, fer I knowed George was listenin', but I couldn't take the liberty. I seed George had quit writin' an' was lookin' out o' the window with his jaw set, like he was sufferin'."

"Then the drummer began to tell about how she had squelched a feller up in Richmond. He was a rich Yankee that was bein' entertained up thar, an' met her at some big dinner. It seems she set right across the table from him, an' some'n he said agin the southern soldiers must 'er fire up. You know two of her uncles was killed at Gettysburg. Well, instead of apologizin' like he ort, he seemed to think it was mighty funny, an' he spent the rest of the dinner hittin' at the dead Confederate soldiers—jest think o' that, the dead ones!—sellers they had no right to have flowers strewn on their graves an' the like. The drummer said she tucked it like a bare lady, as mild as she could, out o' politeness, an' becuse she saw that the lady that give the party was worried by his conduct, but she gave the feller a cold stare, after dinner, an' ordered her carriage to take 'er home. The whole thing, it seems, along with her good looks an' high position, literally turned the Yankee's head. He made a dozen attempts after that to meet 'er, but she refused to have anything to do with 'im. He found out whar she attended church, an' went thar one Sunday, an' after meetin' was over he waited at the foot o' the steps outside. Seems like he counted on his sillin' doin' the work, fer when she appeared at the top o' the steps he jest tuck off his hat an' made a low bow, an' stood gramin', to show how sorry he was. The drummer said she happened to have some pennies in her hand, an' that she jest dropped 'em in the feller's hat, but as ef he was a heggan, an', without lookin' at 'im, passed on down the steps. 'They say it got out, an' so much fun was made of it that the feller left Richmond. She's jest like a queen, anyway, Mrs. Hillyer, but I'll tell you I believe she likes George Buckley—I believe she likes an' respects 'im. An' sometimes when I see her an' him together I jest feel like the two of 'em is doin' right to feel that a-way, even ef it never comes to anything. It's the prettiest sight on earth—that sort o' thing is, Mrs. Hillyer. An' sometimes it seems to me that it's jest becuse they are held apart that they are drawn so close together. She's at the top, Mrs. Hillyer, an' his daddy has put up a wall betwixt the two, but they are a-lookin' over it into each other's eyes an' a-wonderin'—jest a-wonderin'."

Mrs. Hillyer gazed at the cotton buyer steadily, and her eyes filled. "Mr. Kenner," she said suddenly, "I've listened to some sermons once in awhile an' been blessed, but it was a rare thing. But I give you my word you've made me feel good this mornin'. I, I, I never loved it was in you! An' jest think, you ain't married. That's oddin' o' deservin' girls in the world, lettin' their good hearts wither up without a speck o' love, an' pore rich soul is dyin' up year by year in this mussy warehouse. I tell you, I'm goin' to find you a wife."

"I wish you would," Kenner laughed. "I've got faith in your judgment, an' I'd take any you picked out an' be thankful. An' this affair of George's makes me wish I'd made better use o' my time 'fore it was too late."

"Too late nothin'," laughed Mrs. Hillyer as she turned away. "You are a sight younger now than half o' these headless dukes that have already danced their youth away."

Arriving at home, the merchant's wife bustled into the warm sitting room, whar her niece sat sewing at a window, and, throwing her shawl on a chair, she stood before the wood fire, "Hortense," she said suddenly, "I want to talk to you."

"To me?" asked the young woman in surprise. "What is it?"

Mrs. Hillyer stood before her. "I want to say that Jim Kenner is one of the best men I ever knowed, seed or heard tell of. I want to say, moreover, that he would marry under jest the right provocation. I want to add, too, that this town is full o' the like!" set o' gals that ever wore gowns."

"Well," gasped Miss Snowden in surprise, "I can't see why you are harlin' on me."

"That's the word for it," said Kenner. "As fer her bein' above 'im in station, whar does that matter to him? I've never seed his equal fer pride an' self respect. I believe of a really refined young man is put in low surroundin's he'll make a finer creature sometimes than he was put among the best. No, George can't hide his feelings. I think maybe he had some hope before his father's disgrace, but he ain't now. Thar was a tobacco drummer from Virginia in the office other day, an' he got to runnin' on, like them sort o' men will, to me an' Hanks. George was writin' letters at the desk. The drummer begun tellin' us about bein' astonished to see folks like the Cranstons in this out of the way place. He said Miss Lydia was the belle o' Richmond society an' had big public men runnin' after 'er. He said our governor—you know Governor Telfair—is a widower about my age—well, he met 'er at some military encampment down south an' is dead bent on marryin' her. I wanted to stop the feller, fer I knowed George was listenin', but I couldn't take the liberty. I seed George had quit writin' an' was lookin' out o' the window with his jaw set, like he was sufferin'."

"Then the drummer began to tell about how she had squelched a feller up in Richmond. He was a rich Yankee that was bein' entertained up thar, an' met her at some big dinner. It seems she set right across the table from him, an' some'n he said agin the southern soldiers must 'er fire up. You know two of her uncles was killed at Gettysburg. Well, instead of apologizin' like he ort, he seemed to think it was mighty funny, an' he spent the rest of the dinner hittin' at the dead Confederate soldiers—jest think o' that, the dead ones!—sellers they had no right to have flowers strewn on their graves an' the like. The drummer said she tucked it like a bare lady, as mild as she could, out o' politeness, an' becuse she saw that the lady that give the party was worried by his conduct, but she gave the feller a cold stare, after dinner, an' ordered her carriage to take 'er home. The whole thing, it seems, along with her good looks an' high position, literally turned the Yankee's head. He made a dozen attempts after that to meet 'er, but she refused to have anything to do with 'im. He found out whar she attended church, an' went thar one Sunday, an' after meetin' was over he waited at the foot o' the steps outside. Seems like he counted on his sillin' doin' the work, fer when she appeared at the top o' the steps he jest tuck off his hat an' made a low bow, an' stood gramin', to show how sorry he was. The drummer said she happened to have some pennies in her hand, an' that she jest dropped 'em in the feller's hat, but as ef he was a heggan, an', without lookin' at 'im, passed on down the steps. 'They say it got out, an' so much fun was made of it that the feller left Richmond. She's jest like a queen, anyway, Mrs. Hillyer, but I'll tell you I believe she likes George Buckley—I believe she likes an' respects 'im. An' sometimes when I see her an' him together I jest feel like the two of 'em is doin' right to feel that a-way, even ef it never comes to anything. It's the prettiest sight on earth—that sort o' thing is, Mrs. Hillyer. An' sometimes it seems to me that it's jest becuse they are held apart that they are drawn so close together. She's at the top, Mrs. Hillyer, an' his daddy has put up a wall betwixt the two, but they are a-lookin' over it into each other's eyes an' a-wonderin'—jest a-wonderin'."

Mrs. Hillyer gazed at the cotton buyer steadily, and her eyes filled. "Mr. Kenner," she said suddenly, "I've listened to some sermons once in awhile an' been blessed, but it was a rare thing. But I give you my word you've made me feel good this mornin'. I, I, I never loved it was in you! An' jest think, you ain't married. That's oddin' o' deservin' girls in the world, lettin' their good hearts wither up without a speck o' love, an' pore rich soul is dyin' up year by year in this mussy warehouse. I tell you, I'm goin' to find you a wife."

"I wish you would," Kenner laughed. "I've got faith in your judgment, an' I'd take any you picked out an' be thankful. An' this affair of George's makes me wish I'd made better use o' my time 'fore it was too late."

"Too late nothin'," laughed Mrs. Hillyer as she turned away. "You are a sight younger now than half o' these headless dukes that have already danced their youth away."

Arriving at home, the merchant's wife bustled into the warm sitting room, whar her niece sat sewing at a window, and, throwing her shawl on a chair, she stood before the wood fire, "Hortense," she said suddenly, "I want to talk to you."

"To me?" asked the young woman in surprise. "What is it?"

Mrs. Hillyer stood before her. "I want to say that Jim Kenner is one of the best men I ever knowed, seed or heard tell of. I want to say, moreover, that he would marry under jest the right provocation. I want to add, too, that this town is full o' the like!" set o' gals that ever wore gowns."

"Well," gasped Miss Snowden in surprise, "I can't see why you are harlin' on me."

"That's the word for it," said Kenner. "As fer her bein' above 'im in station, whar does that matter to him? I've never seed his equal fer pride an' self respect. I believe of a really refined young man is put in low surroundin's he'll make a finer creature sometimes than he was put among the best. No, George can't hide his feelings. I think maybe he had some hope before his father's disgrace, but he ain't now. Thar was a tobacco drummer from Virginia in the office other day, an' he got to runnin' on, like them sort o' men will, to me an' Hanks. George was writin' letters at the desk. The drummer begun tellin' us about bein' astonished to see folks like the Cranstons in this out of the way place. He said Miss Lydia was the belle o' Richmond society an' had big public men runnin' after 'er. He said our governor—you know Governor Telfair—is a widower about my age—well, he met 'er at some military encampment down south an' is dead bent on marryin' her. I wanted to stop the feller, fer I knowed George was listenin', but I couldn't take the liberty. I seed George had quit writin' an' was lookin' out o' the window with his jaw set, like he was sufferin'."

"Then the drummer began to tell about how she had squelched a feller up in Richmond. He was a rich Yankee that was bein' entertained up thar, an' met her at some big dinner. It seems she set right across the table from him, an' some'n he said agin the southern soldiers must 'er fire up. You know two of her uncles was killed at Gettysburg. Well, instead of apologizin' like he ort, he seemed to think it was mighty funny, an' he spent the rest of the dinner hittin' at the dead Confederate soldiers—jest think o' that, the dead ones!—sellers they had no right to have flowers strewn on their graves an' the like. The drummer said she tucked it like a bare lady, as mild as she could, out o' politeness, an' becuse she saw that the lady that give the party was worried by his conduct, but she gave the feller a cold stare, after dinner, an' ordered her carriage to take 'er home. The whole thing, it seems, along with her good looks an' high position, literally turned the Yankee's head. He made a dozen attempts after that to meet 'er, but she refused to have anything to do with 'im. He found out whar she attended church, an' went thar one Sunday, an' after meetin' was over he waited at the foot o' the steps outside. Seems like he counted on his sillin' doin' the work, fer when she appeared at the top o' the steps he jest tuck off his hat an' made a low bow, an' stood gramin', to show how sorry he was. The drummer said she happened to have some pennies in her hand, an' that she jest dropped 'em in the feller's hat, but as ef he was a heggan, an', without lookin' at 'im, passed on down the steps. 'They say it got out, an' so much fun was made of it that the feller left Richmond. She's jest like a queen, anyway, Mrs. Hillyer, but I'll tell you I believe she likes George Buckley—I believe she likes an' respects 'im. An' sometimes when I see her an' him together I jest feel like the two of 'em is doin' right to feel that a-way, even ef it never comes to anything. It's the prettiest sight on earth—that sort o' thing is, Mrs. Hillyer. An' sometimes it seems to me that it's jest becuse they are held apart that they are drawn so close together. She's at the top, Mrs. Hillyer, an' his daddy has put up a wall betwixt the two, but they are a-lookin' over it into each other's eyes an' a-wonderin'—jest a-wonderin'."

Mrs. Hillyer gazed at the cotton buyer steadily, and her eyes filled. "Mr. Kenner," she said suddenly, "I've listened to some sermons once in awhile an' been blessed, but it was a rare thing. But I give you my word you've made me feel good this mornin'. I, I, I never loved it was in you! An' jest think, you ain't married. That's oddin' o' deservin' girls in the world, lettin' their good hearts wither up without a speck o' love, an' pore rich soul is dyin' up year by year in this mussy warehouse. I tell you, I'm goin' to find you a wife."

"I wish you would," Kenner laughed. "I've got faith in your judgment, an' I'd take any you picked out an' be thankful. An' this affair of George's makes me wish I'd made better use o' my time 'fore it was too late."

"Too late nothin'," laughed Mrs. Hillyer as she turned away. "You are a sight younger now than half o' these headless dukes that have already danced their youth away."

Arriving at home, the merchant's wife bustled into the warm sitting room, whar her niece sat sewing at a window, and, throwing her shawl on a chair, she stood before the wood fire, "Hortense," she said suddenly, "I want to talk to you."

"To me?" asked the young woman in surprise. "What is it?"

Mrs. Hillyer stood before her. "I want to say that Jim Kenner is one of the best men I ever knowed, seed or heard tell of. I want to say, moreover, that he would marry under jest the right provocation. I want to add, too, that this town is full o' the like!" set o' gals that ever wore gowns."

"Well," gasped Miss Snowden in surprise, "I can't see why you are harlin' on me."

"That's the word for it," said Kenner. "As fer her bein' above 'im in station, whar does that matter to him? I've never seed his equal fer pride an' self respect. I believe of a really refined young man is put in low surroundin's he'll make a finer creature sometimes than he was put among the best. No, George can't hide his feelings. I think maybe he had some hope before his father's disgrace, but he ain't now. Thar was a tobacco drummer from Virginia in the office other day, an' he got to runnin' on, like them sort o' men will, to me an' Hanks. George was writin' letters at the desk. The drummer begun tellin' us about bein' astonished to see folks like the Cranstons in this out of the way place. He said Miss Lydia was the belle o' Richmond society an' had big public men runnin' after 'er. He said our governor—you know Governor Telfair—is a widower about my age—well, he met 'er at some military encampment down south an' is dead bent on marryin' her. I wanted to stop the feller, fer I knowed George was listenin', but I couldn't take the liberty. I seed George had quit writin' an' was lookin' out o' the window with his jaw set, like he was sufferin'."

"Then the drummer began to tell about how she had squelched a feller up in Richmond. He was a rich Yankee that was bein' entertained up thar, an' met her at some big dinner. It seems she set right across the table from him, an' some'n he said agin the southern soldiers must 'er fire up. You know two of her uncles was killed at Gettysburg. Well, instead of apologizin' like he ort, he seemed to think it was mighty funny, an' he spent the rest of the dinner hittin' at the dead Confederate soldiers—jest think o' that, the dead ones!—sellers they had no right to have flowers strewn on their graves an' the like. The drummer said she tucked it like a bare lady, as mild as she could, out o' politeness, an' becuse she saw that the lady that give the party was worried by his conduct, but she gave the feller a cold stare, after dinner, an' ordered her carriage to take 'er home. The whole thing, it seems, along with her good looks an' high position, literally turned the Yankee's head. He made a dozen attempts after that to meet 'er, but she refused to have anything to do with 'im. He found out whar she attended church, an' went thar one Sunday, an' after meetin' was over he waited at the foot o' the steps outside. Seems like he counted on his sillin' doin' the work, fer when she appeared at the top o' the steps he jest tuck off his hat an' made a low bow, an' stood gramin', to show how sorry he was. The drummer said she happened to have some pennies in her hand, an' that she jest dropped 'em in the feller's hat, but as ef he was a heggan, an', without lookin' at 'im, passed on down the steps. 'They say it got out, an' so much fun was made of it that the feller left Richmond. She's jest like a queen, anyway, Mrs. Hillyer, but I'll tell you I believe she likes George Buckley—I believe she likes an' respects 'im. An' sometimes when I see her an' him together I jest feel like the two of 'em is doin' right to feel that a-way, even ef it never comes to anything. It's the prettiest sight on earth—that sort o' thing is, Mrs. Hillyer. An' sometimes it seems to me that it's jest becuse they are held apart that they are drawn so close together. She's at the top, Mrs. Hillyer, an' his daddy has put up a wall betwixt the two, but they are a-lookin' over it into each other's eyes an' a-wonderin'—jest a-wonderin'."

Mrs. Hillyer gazed at the cotton buyer steadily, and her eyes filled. "Mr. Kenner," she said suddenly, "I've listened to some sermons once in awhile an' been blessed, but it was a rare thing. But I give you my word you've made me feel good this mornin'. I, I, I never loved it was in you! An' jest think, you ain't married. That's oddin' o' deservin' girls in the world, lettin' their good hearts wither up without a speck o' love, an' pore rich soul is dyin' up year by year in this mussy warehouse. I tell you, I'm goin' to find you a wife."

"I wish you would," Kenner laughed. "I've got faith in your judgment, an' I'd take any you picked out an' be thankful. An' this affair of George's makes me wish I'd made better use o' my time 'fore it was too late."

"Too late nothin'," laughed Mrs. Hillyer as she turned away. "You are a sight younger now than half o' these headless dukes that have already danced their youth away."

Arriving at home, the merchant's wife bustled into the warm sitting room, whar her niece sat sewing at a window, and, throwing her shawl on a chair, she stood before the wood fire, "Hortense," she said suddenly, "I want to talk to you."

"To me?" asked the young woman in surprise. "What is it?"

Mrs. Hillyer stood before her. "I want to say that Jim Kenner is one of the best men I ever knowed, seed or heard tell of. I want to say, moreover, that he would marry under jest the right provocation. I want to add, too, that this town is full o' the like!" set o' gals that ever wore gowns."

"Well," gasped Miss Snowden in surprise, "I can't see why you are harlin' on me."

"That's the word for it," said Kenner. "As fer her bein' above 'im in station, whar does that matter to him? I've never seed his equal fer pride an' self respect. I believe of a really refined young man is put in low surroundin's he'll make a finer creature sometimes than he was put among the best. No, George can't hide his feelings. I think maybe he had some hope before his father's disgrace, but he ain't now. Thar was a tobacco drummer from Virginia in the office other day, an' he got to runnin' on, like them sort o' men will, to me an' Hanks. George was writin' letters at the desk. The drummer begun tellin' us about bein' astonished to see folks like the Cranstons in this out of the way place. He said Miss Lydia was the belle o' Richmond society an' had big public men runnin' after 'er. He said our governor—you know Governor Telfair—is a widower about my age—well, he met 'er at some military encampment down south an' is dead bent on marryin' her. I wanted to stop the feller, fer I knowed George was listenin', but I couldn't take the liberty. I seed George had quit writin' an' was lookin' out o' the window with his jaw set, like he was sufferin'."

"Then the drummer began to tell about how she had squelched a feller up in Richmond. He was a rich Yankee that was bein' entertained up thar, an' met her at some big dinner. It seems she set right across the table from him, an' some'n he said agin the southern soldiers must 'er fire up. You know two of her uncles was killed at Gettysburg. Well, instead of apologizin' like he ort, he seemed to think it was mighty funny, an' he spent the rest of the dinner hittin' at the dead Confederate soldiers—jest think o' that, the dead ones!—sellers they had no right to have flowers strewn on their graves an' the like. The drummer said she tucked it like a bare lady, as mild as she could, out o' politeness, an' becuse she saw that the lady that give the party was worried by his conduct, but she gave the feller a cold stare, after dinner, an' ordered her carriage to take 'er home. The whole thing, it seems, along with her good looks an' high position, literally turned the Yankee's head. He made a dozen attempts after that to meet 'er, but she refused to have anything to do with 'im. He found out whar she attended church, an' went thar one Sunday, an' after meetin' was over he waited at the foot o' the steps outside. Seems like he counted on his sillin' doin' the work, fer when she appeared at the top o' the steps he jest tuck off his hat an' made a low bow, an' stood gramin', to show how sorry he was. The drummer said she happened to have some pennies in her hand, an' that she jest dropped 'em in the feller's hat, but as ef he was a heggan, an', without lookin' at 'im, passed on down the steps. 'They say it got out, an' so much fun was made of it that the feller left Richmond. She's jest like a queen, anyway, Mrs. Hillyer, but I'll tell you I believe she likes George Buckley—I believe she likes an' respects 'im. An' sometimes when I see her an' him together I jest feel like the two of 'em is doin' right to feel that a-way, even ef it never comes to anything. It's the prettiest sight on earth—that sort o' thing is, Mrs. Hillyer. An' sometimes it seems to me that it's jest becuse they are held apart that they are drawn so close together. She's at the top, Mrs. Hillyer, an' his daddy has put up a wall betwixt the two, but they are a-lookin' over it into each other's eyes an' a-wonderin'—jest a-wonderin'."

Mrs. Hillyer gazed at the cotton buyer steadily, and her eyes filled. "Mr. Kenner," she said suddenly, "I've listened to some sermons once in awhile an' been blessed, but it was a rare thing. But I give you my word you've made me feel good this mornin'. I, I, I never loved it was in you! An' jest think, you ain't married. That's oddin' o' deservin' girls in the world, lettin' their good hearts wither up without a speck o' love, an' pore rich soul is dyin' up year by year in this mussy warehouse. I tell you, I'm goin' to find you a wife."

"I wish you would," Kenner laughed. "I've got faith in your judgment, an' I'd take any you picked out an' be thankful. An' this affair of George's makes me wish I'd made better use o' my time 'fore it was too late."

"Too late nothin'," laughed Mrs. Hillyer as she turned away. "You are a sight younger now than half o' these headless dukes that have already danced their youth away."

Arriving at home, the merchant's wife bustled into the warm sitting room, whar her niece sat sewing at a window, and, throwing her shawl on a chair, she stood before the wood fire, "Hortense," she said suddenly, "I want to talk to you."

"To me?" asked the young woman in surprise. "What is it?"

Mrs. Hillyer stood before her. "I want to say that Jim Kenner is one of the best men I ever knowed, seed or heard tell of. I want to say, moreover, that he would marry under jest the right provocation. I want to add, too, that this town is full o' the like!" set o' gals that ever wore gowns."

"Well," gasped Miss Snowden in surprise, "I can't see why you are harlin' on me."

"That's the word for it," said Kenner. "As fer her bein' above 'im in station, whar does that matter to him? I've never seed his equal fer pride an' self respect. I believe of a really refined young man is put in low surroundin's he'll make a finer creature sometimes than he was put among the best. No, George can't hide his feelings. I think maybe he had some hope before his father's disgrace, but he ain't now. Thar was a tobacco drummer from Virginia in the office other day, an' he got to runnin' on, like them sort o' men will, to me an' Hanks. George was writin' letters at the desk. The drummer begun tellin' us about bein' astonished to see folks like the Cranstons in this out of the way place. He said Miss Lydia was the belle o' Richmond society an' had big public men runnin' after 'er. He said our governor—you know Governor Telfair—is a widower about my age—well, he met 'er at some military encampment down south an' is dead bent on marryin' her. I wanted to stop the feller, fer I knowed George was listenin', but I couldn't take the liberty. I seed George had quit writin' an' was lookin' out o' the window with his jaw set, like he was sufferin'."

"Then the drummer began to tell about how she had squelched a feller up in Richmond. He was a rich Yankee that was bein' entertained up thar, an' met her at some big dinner. It seems she set right across the table from him, an' some'n he said agin the southern soldiers must 'er fire up. You know two of her uncles was killed at Gettysburg. Well, instead of apologizin' like he ort, he seemed to think it was mighty funny, an' he spent the rest of the dinner hittin' at the dead Confederate soldiers—jest think o' that, the dead ones!—sellers they had no right to have flowers strewn on their graves an' the like. The drummer said she tucked it like a bare lady, as mild as she could, out o' politeness, an' becuse she saw that the lady that give the party was worried by his conduct, but she gave the feller a cold stare, after dinner, an' ordered her carriage to take 'er home. The whole thing, it seems, along with her good looks an' high position, literally turned the Yankee's head. He made a dozen attempts after that to meet 'er, but she refused to have anything to do with 'im. He found out whar she attended church, an' went thar one Sunday, an' after meetin' was over he waited at the foot o' the steps outside. Seems like he counted on his sillin' doin' the work, fer when she appeared at the top o' the steps he jest tuck off his hat an' made a low bow, an' stood gramin', to show how sorry he was. The drummer said she happened to have some pennies in her hand, an' that she jest dropped 'em in the feller's hat, but as ef he was a heggan, an', without lookin' at 'im, passed on down the steps. 'They say it got out, an' so much fun was made of it that the feller left Richmond. She's jest like a queen, anyway, Mrs. Hillyer, but I'll tell you I believe she likes George Buckley—I believe she likes an' respects 'im. An' sometimes when I see her an' him together I jest feel like the two of 'em is doin' right to feel that a-way, even ef it never comes to anything. It's the prettiest sight on earth—that sort o' thing is, Mrs. Hillyer. An' sometimes it seems to me that it's jest becuse they are held apart that they are drawn so close together. She's at the top, Mrs. Hillyer, an' his daddy has put up a wall betwixt the two, but they are a-lookin' over it into each other's eyes an' a-wonderin'—jest a-wonderin'."

Mrs. Hillyer gazed at the cotton buyer steadily, and her eyes filled. "Mr. Kenner," she said suddenly, "I've listened to some sermons once in awhile an' been blessed, but it was a rare thing. But I give you my word you've made me feel good this mornin'. I, I, I never loved it was in you! An' jest think, you ain't married. That's oddin' o' deservin' girls in the world, lettin' their good hearts wither up without a speck o' love, an' pore rich soul is dyin' up year by year in this mussy warehouse. I tell you, I'm goin' to find you a wife."

"I wish you would," Kenner laughed. "I've got faith in your judgment, an' I'd take any you picked out an' be thankful. An' this affair of George's makes me wish I'd made better use o' my time 'fore it was too late."

"Too late nothin'," laughed Mrs. Hillyer as she turned away. "You are a sight younger now than half o' these headless dukes that have already danced their youth away."

Arriving at home, the merchant's wife bustled into the warm sitting room, whar her niece sat sewing at a window, and, throwing her shawl on a chair, she stood before the wood fire, "Hortense," she said suddenly, "I want to talk to you."

"To me?" asked the young woman in surprise. "What is it?"

Mrs. Hillyer stood before her. "I want to say that Jim Kenner is one of the best men I ever knowed, seed or heard tell of. I want to say, moreover, that he would marry under jest the right provocation. I want to add, too, that this town is full o' the like!" set o' gals that ever wore gowns."

"Well," gasped Miss Snowden in surprise, "I can't see why you are harlin' on me."

"That's the word for it," said Kenner. "As fer her be

COUNTY NEWS

MILTON JUNCTION.

Milton Junction, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller, who have been spending the past year in the west, are expected home next week.

Misses Lillian Coon, Mabel and Anna West, Maud Whittey, are visiting the Delavan Assembly this year.

Miss Mabel Hadden has gone to Dodgeville to spend a few days with the family of her brother.

Geo. Mills, of Chicago, who is in very poor health, is spending some time with his mother here.

A number of families on Madison Ave., will spend a couple of weeks camping at Rock River.

John Stockman and wife will attend the Prohibition state convention at Madison Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Quite a number from this place will go to Walworth Friday to attend the quarterly meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptists church.

Rev. O. S. Mills returned this week from Dodge Center, Minn., where he went to attend the funeral of his brother, who was killed in the Litchfield, Minn., wreck.

"Grandma" Perry has gone to Dodge Center, Minn., to make her home with her son there.

Leaffie Chamberlain is in Beloit visiting her sister.

Mrs. Chas. Mickelson has been entertaining her mother, brother and grandmother from Tennessee this week.

Mrs. G. W. Coon will accompany her husband on the road a few days this week.

D. B. Coon and J. H. Coon, with their wives, were over from Utica Monday to attend the funeral of David Starks, of Milton.

Mrs. Della Mills and Mrs. Olga Reuterskold, of Albion, called on Inebien Randolph's family Monday.

Miss Reuby Coon and Mr. James Bonham, of Walworth, attended church here last Sabbath.

They came over from Whitewater where they are attending the summer school.

The Rebecca Lodge holds a social with Mrs. L. B. Baten Thursday night.

Our "Automobile" trio all went to Lake Mills Wednesday.

Mrs. H. E. Miller and Miss Addie Miner, of Connecticut, are visiting with Mrs. Frank Grey.

MILTON.

Milton, July 29.—Burglars entered M. L. Brown's store Tuesday night through a window. They must have been cheap thieves as they failed to open the cash drawer, after trying it, and did not get the half dollar it contained.

Principal Bartlett was in town Tuesday getting acquainted with people and looking over his future home.

Hosea Cary is enjoying an outing in Iowa.

R. Richardson and wife are visiting their son, Rev. F. C. Richardson, at Darford.

Mrs. L. M. Babcock has gone to Jackson Center, Ohio, where her husband, Dr. Babcock, has located to practice dentistry.

Dr. J. M. Palmer, of Brays Lake, Ill., spent Wednesday in town while enroute home from South Dakota.

The local telephone exchanges now have about 375 phones on their lines and additions are being made weekly.

W. P. Clarke goes to Fond du Lac Monday to attend the annual meeting of the state pharmaceutical association.

Rev. J. Allison Platts and wife, of Allegheny, Pa., are visiting their parents, Rev. Dr. Platts and wife.

Rev. A. L. McClelland and wife intend to visit New England next month.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Powers, July 26, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rood visited Madison relatives this week.

P. H. Burdick has gone to Leonardsville, N. Y., where he will learn a trade in the Babcock machine shops.

L. H. North left for Dodge Center, Minn., Thursday. He will be missed in the Journal office, by the boys and in the community.

Rev. Geo. B. Shaw, of Plainfield, N. J., is visiting his Milton relatives and numerous friends.

C. H. Goodrich came back from the National Home at Milwaukee this week.

BRODHEAD.

Brodhead, July 28.—Misses Mamie Starr, Lura Holcomb, went to Monroe Wednesday morning to accompany Miss Elta Chambers to St. Louis, where the party will spend ten days at the Fair.

Mrs. Armintha Gardner enjoyed a visit the first of the week from her sister, Mrs. Snyder, of Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumas Beckwith left Wednesday morning for a few days' visit with Dr. and Mrs. Wade Doolittle, in Lancaster.

Mrs. John Lalor returned to her home in Minneapolis Wednesday morning, after several week's visit with Mrs. Blanchard.

John R. Sherman left Monday morning for St. Louis to take in the Fair.

Miss May Kittelsen went to Janesville last Thursday for a visit with her friend, Miss Grace Wright, returning home Monday.

The Misses Kittelsen and Wright both teach in the San Claire High school.

Mrs. Gilmore, of Pasadena, California, is the guest of Mr. C. E. Skinner's family. She is on her way to Europe, expecting to leave New York City August 6th. She expects to visit places of interest in England, France and Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Rolander and family, of Monroe, spent a part of last week at the park with L. J. Starr and D. E. Hooker and their families.

Mrs. M. Schenck left Monday afternoon for Bowdle, S. Dak., where she will spend a few weeks with her brother, L. E. Amerpohl and family.

Prof. and Mrs. John Nicholson left on Monday morning for their new home in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

S. J. Sarkeys returned to Chicago Monday morning after a week's visit with his brother, Rev. Sarkeys.

Attorney F. W. Lucas was down from Madison on Sunday and spent the day with his parents.

Mr. Harry Pitzer and Miss Nellie Palmer, of Chicago, who have been the guests of W. H. Skinner's family, returned home on Monday.

HANOVER.

Hanover, July 28.—P. M. Ehrlich, or was a caller in Janesville Tuesday.

Tom Wirth, of Beloit, is visiting here.

G. J. Schaffner was a visitor in Janesville Tuesday.

Pat Conway, of Footville, was a Tuesday caller here.

Joseph Hemmingsway spent Wednesday in Delavan.

F. O. and W. O. Uehling were callers in Orford Wednesday.

P. M. Hepler, of Sussex, Wis., is visiting E. S. Pyburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Selmore spent Wednesday in the Bower City.

Mrs. Zlenow, of Janesville, was a Wednesday visitor at Mr. and Mrs. W. Selmore's.

L. C. Lee, of Edgerton, is spending a short vacation with friends here.

Harry Detmer was in Janesville Tuesday.

Mrs. Fiebelkorn went to Milwaukee Thursday.

S. R. Condon, of Rockford, Ill., was here on business Wednesday.

Mrs. Sutherland and Mrs. Lynch, of Iron Mountain, Mich., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Child.

Joe Flint was in Janesville Wednesday on business.

ALBANY.

Albany, July 28.—Perry Bertness, of Brodhead, visited relatives here the first of the week.

Mrs. C. L. Mitchelltree, of Atronelle, Ala., is here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hewitt spent Sunday in Brodhead with friends.

Mr. Chas. Guggisberg and family, of Monticello, were guests of friends Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bontly spent Sunday in Monticello with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Nichols are spending a few days with relatives in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gravenor and Mr. and Mrs. Will Broughton, and Homer Palmer, attended the funeral of Floyd Broughton in Brodhead, Wednesday.

Mrs. Ella Lake enjoyed a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Adeline Montgomery, of Coconut Grove, Fla., last week.

Rev. T. E. Foss, Frank Graves, Francis Atkinson and Jas. Smiley are in Madison attending the prohibition state convention.

FOOTVILLE.

Footville, July 28.—This town is making great headway these days, making cement sidewalks. James Hammel, with a force of workmen, is here doing the work and nearly all of the business places, as well as a number of the residences, are being thus improved. Let the good work go on.

Miss Marion Popple had the misfortune to splinter the bones in one of her wrists recently.

Earl Richards and wife spent Sunday at Cottage Grove.

Mark Thompson is enjoying a visit from his brother, William.

Henry Pepper took in the excursion to Devil's Lake on Wednesday.

Harvesting is about completed in these parts. The oats are very rusty.

Miss Helen Popple is sewing in Center.

Mrs. Anna Mott and son were visiting in this vicinity recently.

ROCK RIVER.

Rock River, July 28.—The Misses Grace and Ona Pierce are spending the week in Hebron.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Wallace Paul next Thursday afternoon. All invited to come.

Elder Starkweather will preach here next Sabbath.

Lydia Belling, of Edgerton, is visiting in this neighborhood.

Ella Shultz will teach the River school again next year.

Ada Williams, of Janesville, is visiting Mamie Paul.

Della Davis has been quite sick but is now better.

Several from here attended the social at Newell.

Some from this place expect to attend the quarterly meeting held at Walworth, beginning Friday.

EAST UNION.

East Union, July 27.—Farmers in this vicinity are busy harvesting.

Several from here attended the Royal Neighbors supper and dance at Evansville last Saturday night.

Miss Lydia Larson visited over Sunday with Miss Emma Brunell, of Porter.

Leo H. Campbell and family visited friends at Brooklyn, Syene and Madison the forepart of this week and attended the Monona Assembly Monday.

Albertina Westby, age fifteen years, died last Wednesday morning, July 20th. She had been ill for some time and a great sufferer. She was the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grunder Westby. The funeral was held Thursday and the interment in the Cooksville cemetery. They have a large circle of friends who extend their sympathy.

SOUTHWEST LIMA.

Southwest Lima, July 28.—Archie Mills, of Milton Junction, is visiting at R. Dixon's this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Lackner were in Whitewater Tuesday.

R. Dixon is having some repairing done on his house.

George Traver is doing some carpenter work for Will Westrick this week.

A number from here intend to take in the T. A. B. picnic at Edgerton August 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kranz called at Jno. Lackner's Tuesday.

Will Schemmel was cutting oats for Mr. Cunningham Thursday.

FOOTVILLE SUBURBS.

Footville, July 27.—Wm. Ross, of Janesville, visited this place last week looking after the "Gazette" family, whose he finds quite numerous here.

Some of the home comers still linger since the grand reunion of July 8th, when so many people came back to Footville to see what a good town they had left. It goes without saying that everybody had a good time and will come back next year. The dinner in the big tent was fine, over 900 people taking meals there and all said they would be just as hungry on reunion day next year. The Footville band furnished music all day. Flags and bunting were plentiful and a happy crowd enjoyed The Old Settlers' Picnic.

As the 8th of July happened to be Mrs. Backers birthday, her old time friends from out of town found it out and when she got home she found a nice chair in her house for "Aunt Jane." She will always remember the day she was seventy-three and the friends she met that day.

Prof. Charles Hunt has left Footville for his home in Denver, Col. Miss Cora Currie is visiting her aunt in Winona, Minn.

Mrs. Hunt is spending the summer with her son in Minnesota.

The Aid Society met with Mrs. Sina Schroeder on Thursday of last week.

Mr. Will Silverthorn has moved in the Ogden house on Main street.

Tom Ogden undertook to work around his bee hive on Wednesday. The bees got mad and nearly all the family were badly stung. Tom says he will let the bees alone on Wednesday after this, thinks it an unlucky day.

Hotel Canary are putting in cement sidewalks. Fox restaurant and Jim McCully on Main street, are also taking up the old sidewalk to put in cement.

John Torpy and Paul Langdon and Billy Kennedy have gone to Dakota to work in the harvest fields.

Harry Melndel was the only one from Footville to visit the Roschold reservation and register for a homestead. He stood in the line five hours and fifteen minutes before he got his papers.

The Sam Honeysett farm south-west of Footville was sold to David Hastings, of Brodhead, for $8,000. The farm consists of 76 acres.

Solomon Strang is in Oregon looking after his gold mines.

NORTHWEST LIMA.

Northwest Lima, July 26.—Most of the barley in this vicinity is cut. The yield will be small but the quality good.

A large number of young people from this vicinity attended the dance at Ed. Dore's Tuesday evening.

Miss Grace Hobbs is entertaining her friend, Miss Ross, of Chicago.

Miss Lizzie and Ernest Vance entertained several friends at a picnic at Lake Koshkonong Wednesday.

Miss Rosa Downey returned after a three-weeks' visit in Chicago, Saturday, and was accompanied by her cousin, Hulle Downey.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McGinn spent Sunday at Ball Bluff.

An ice cream social was held at H. S. Morgan's Wednesday evening for the benefit of the South Koshkonong church.

Mrs. Truman, of Lima Center, spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Thos. Collins.

PORTER.

Porter, July 26.—Mrs. Kate Smith and daughter, Cella, of Chicago, are visiting their relatives, the Nichol's family.

Rain is badly needed in this locality for the pastures and growing crops.

In the game of ball played at the Gibbs Lake on Sunday, the victory was for the "Leydenites," against the White Stars, of 14 to 2. Next Sunday it will be Edgerton vs. Evansville, and a hot time is promised.

Ice cream, pop and other refreshments will be served on the grounds. Admission free.

Mr. Thos. Frusher died at his home here last Saturday of heart and stomach trouble. The funeral was held on Monday, services being conducted in St. Michael's church by the Rev. Father Hartin, after which he was laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church.

D. Casey and E. Ford have purchased a new threshing engine in Madison and brought the same home on Tuesday.

BURR OAK.

Burr Oak, July 28.—Dr. Buckridge, of Beloit, and family, camped on our school grounds one night last week. They were enroute for the Delta of Wisconsin by way of Lake Kegonsa and Devils Lake. They expect to be gone about three weeks. Miss Buckridge was formerly a teacher in the Edgerton high school.

Burr Oak people held their annual picnic in Cheeshros woods last Sunday.

Miss Grace Howe and Miss Cassie Scofield, of Indian Ford, called on Levi Hubbell's folks last Tuesday.

Mrs. Nellie Hollins and husband, who are visiting Mrs. Hollins' father, Mr. Robert Johnson, of Indian Ford, received the sad news of his brother's death in Chicago. Mr. Hollins left on the afternoon train Wednesday for Chicago.

Farmers have the oat crop nearly harvested. The tobacco is suffering the most for rain. Corn looks promising.

$51.95 to California and Return From Janesville via the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Tickets on sale daily, commencing August 15 to September 10, inclusive, with final return limit October 23rd, 1904. Choice of routes, stop-over privileges and everything first-class. Tickets good on all trains. For through train service, etc., apply to the ticket agent St. Paul passenger station.

Low Rates from Boston, Mass., From Janesville via the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Round trip excursion tickets on sale Aug. 11, 12, and 13, account of the National Encampment, Grand Army of the Republic. For limit of ticket, routes, etc., apply to the ticket agent.

Appropriate. "It's so long since you sang," said the central sun to the frozen brook; "I suppose when you got started again you'd babble some old chestnut."

"Juth tell them that you thaw me," lisped the brook faintly.

REPUBLICANS NAME A TICKET

Missouri State Convention Completes Its List of Nominations.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 29.—The Republican state convention which nominated C. P. Wallbridge of St. Louis for governor completed its work by naming the following ticket: Lieutenant governor, John C. McKinley of Unionville; secretary of state, John Swanger of Milan; treasurer, Jacob Gamelich of Booneville; auditor, Henry Weller of St. Genevieve county; attorney general, Herbert S. Hadley, Kansas City; railroad commissioner, Frank Weichtman, Monette.

MAUSTON BANK CLOSES DOORS

State Examiner Takes Charge of Wisconsin Institution.

Madison, Wis., July 29.—State Bank Examiner N. C. Bergh has taken charge of the state bank at Mauston, Wis., and closed its doors. The liabilities of the bank are $137,001, of which amount $79,704 is due depositors. No application will be made for a receiver until a movement to interest new capital is made. The making of too many large loans to single institutions is said to be the cause of the bank's embarrassment. J. T. Heath is the principal stockholder.

SOLDIER MAY HAVE BEEN SLAIN

Private Joseph Hammett's Body Found in a Creek.

New York, July 29.—The body of Joseph J. Hammett, a private of the Eighteenth company, Eightieth regiment, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Schuyler, was found in Westchester creek. There was a deep stab wound in the breast, apparently made with a bayonet, and the man is supposed to have been murdered. Hammett had been missing from Fort Schuyler for two days.

FATALITY IN ILLINOIS WRECK

Fireman is Killed in Accident Caused by Miscreants.

Hoopston, Ill., July 29.—Fireman James Frames of Chicago was killed and four trainmen were seriously injured in the wreck of the northbound Chicago & Eastern Illinois passenger train here. The train ran into an open switch and the battered locomotive near by indicates an attempt to wreck the train. The injured men—Samuel Bidwin, engineer; Dan Floyd, engineer, and Earl Wacks, baggage man, Chicago, and Joseph Donovan, Danville, are being cared for here. Supt. Russ of Danville is here investigating the wreck.

Drowns While Bathing.

Newman, Ill., July 29.—Perry Chapman, a young business man of Longview, twelve miles north of here, was drowned while bathing in a pool near Sidney.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

An Up to Date Heron

"I'm gettin' rather old," croaked the heron; "that's why I can't catch 'em. My sight is failin' me, and I'm not so quick on the strike as I used to be. Them pesky fish gets away from me every time, and I'm jes' naturally starvin' to death."

"You're right there, old man," said the Yellow Ned as he slipped out of the way of his once terrible beak. "You'll never catch us again. Go off to the woods and die."

UP WENT HIS LONG NECK.

Mr. Heron put his head on one side and then on the other. He was thinking. Over across the river a man was fishing.

"I'll see how he does it," said he. "Oh, a line, and a worm at one end and a pole on the other—easy! But, let me see, I have no pole; no, but I have a scheme."

Next day he sat himself on the bank with a long string tied to his long beak and a wiggly worm tied at one end of the string. He dropped the end of the string in the water. The worm wiggled. Mr. Heron winked one eye and then the other. Pretty soon his head bobbed. "Ah," he cried, "a bite!"

Up went his long neck and up came Mr. Yellow Ned, kicking and struggling at the end of the line. The old heron took him off the hook and hung him on a stick. "Waal," remarked the old bird, as he put on another worm, "I reckon it don't make no difference how yer git yer fish so long as yer git him."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Appropriate.

"It's so long since you sang," said the central sun to the frozen brook; "I suppose when you got started again you'd babble some old chestnut."

"Juth tell them that you thaw me," lisped the brook faintly.

This Is ..THE LAST WEEK.. you can secure Three Votes ...FOR... -Each Cent-

This week should be a busy week among all contestants for the Gazette's Prize, for after this week we will give but two votes for every cent paid in advance. If you are desirous of this outing hustle as you never have before for it means

A Week's Visit to the World's Fair With All Expenses and Wages Paid--All to Be Given by the Gazette.

List of Popular Men Who Have Received Votes For the Gazette's Free Week Trip to the St. LouisWorld'sFair.

H. L. Roberts,
F. J. Clifton,
Carl Palmer,
Simpson Lawson,
George Nicholson,
Frank Drew,
John Kobel,
George Ashley,
S. M. Fisher,

Otto Burnett,
Eugene Delisle,
W. A. Johnson,
Bert Sherwood,
J. C. Morris,
R. Feddersen,
Will Kimball,
Chas. Gibson,

John Kelly,
Berney Dunwiddie,
W. W. Taylor,
Wm. Brennan,
Henry Young,
Ray Lloyd,
C. P. Newton,
Jas. Angell.

CONDITIONS OF THE CONTEST

Cut out the Coupon each day, enter the name of your favorite and forward to the Gazette office.

The popularity of the candidate is to be determined by the number of votes cast for him.

Regular Schedule--Both old and new subscribers who pay in advance and for all coupons will receive the same number of votes--that is for every cent paid in advance during this contest:

3 votes until midnight July 30th.

2 votes until 10 p. m. August 31st.

1 vote for all coupons clipped from the Gazette and delivered at this office before 10 p. m. August 31st.

Premiums--In addition to the regular schedule, new subscriptions will secure premiums when paid in advance, as follows:

One month paid in advance, 100 votes.

Three months paid in advance, 400 votes.

Six months paid in advance, 1,000 votes.

One year paid in advance, 2,500 votes.

GAZETTE FREE WORLD'S FAIR TRIPS

Janesville, Date....., 1904

Please send me the Daily Gazette for.....months and herewith find $.....

and.....cents to pay for same.

Place.....votes to the credit of Mr.....as the most popular working man in Janesville.

Signed.....

Address.....

GAZETTE World's Fair Coupon. Cast One Vote

For.....

Free Week at World's Fair.

Signed.....

Voter's Address.....

Price of Subscription to the Daily Gazette.

By Carrier--One Month; 50c in advance; Three Month, $1.25 in advance; Six months, $2.50 in advance; One Year, $5.00 in advance.

By Mail in Rock County--Four Months, $1.00 in advance; Six Months, $1.50 in advance; One Year, $3.00 in advance.

FOLLICLES.

Pickles are good, but not for desert.

It is almost as nice to inherit intelligence as to inherit money.

Some men work hard while some others only work soft marks.

Perseverance, as a quality, appears to have been bestowed almost exclusively on horses.

It is queer, isn't it, that every one should begrudge the poor, industrious mosquito his living?

Whenever the devil doesn't feel like working, he shapely puts a few more scandal-mongers on duty.

What the average peace-maker really means: "Peace! all of you! Watch me raise a disturbance!"

Undoubtedly the best and most effective wit is the kind that seems to need an introduction to itself.

If death were pictured in the shape of a pretty girl instead of a skeleton, I wonder would mankind be so afraid of death?

Snow and sun form a picturesque combination—until the slush comes. The same may be said of the very old husband and the very young wife.

CHICAGO MARKETS
From Hadden Commission Co., 4204
Jackson Block, Janesville:
U. S. Yards Opening

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close
WHEAT—
Sept.	89 3/4	91 1/4	89 1/4	90 1/4
Oct.	88 1/4	89 1/4	88 1/4	89 1/4
Nov.	87 1/4	88 1/4	87 1/4	88 1/4
Dec.	86 1/4	87 1/4	86 1/4	87 1/4
Jan.	85 1/4	86 1/4	85 1/4	86 1/4
Feb.	84 1/4	85 1/4	84 1/4	85 1/4
Mar.	83 1/4	84 1/4	83 1/4	84 1/4
Apr.	82 1/4	83 1/4	82 1/4	83 1/4
May	81 1/4	82 1/4	81 1/4	82 1/4
June	80 1/4	81 1/4	80 1/4	81 1/4
July	79 1/4	80 1/4	79 1/4	80 1/4
Aug.	78 1/4	79 1/4	78 1/4	79 1/4
Sept.	77 1/4	78 1/4	77 1/4	78 1/4
Oct.	76 1/4	77 1/4	76 1/4	77 1/4
Nov.	75 1/4	76 1/4	75 1/4	76 1/4
Dec.	74 1/4	75 1/4	74 1/4	75 1/4
Jan.	73 1/4	74 1/4	73 1/4	74 1/4
Feb.	72 1/4	73 1/4	72 1/4	73 1/4
Mar.	71 1/4	72 1/4	71 1/4	72 1/4
Apr.	70 1/4	71 1/4	70 1/4	71 1/4
May	69 1/4	70 1/4	69 1/4	70 1/4
June	68 1/4	69 1/4	68 1/4	69 1/4
July	67 1/4	68 1/4	67 1/4	68 1/4
Aug.	66 1/4	67 1/4	66 1/4	67 1/4
Sept.	65 1/4	66 1/4	65 1/4	66 1/4
Oct.	64 1/4	65 1/4	64 1/4	65 1/4
Nov.	63 1/4	64 1/4	63 1/4	64 1/4
Dec.	62 1/4	63 1/4	62 1/4	63 1/4
Jan.	61 1/4	62 1/4	61 1/4	62 1/4
Feb.	60 1/4	61 1/4	60 1/4	61 1/4
Mar.	59 1/4	60 1/4	59 1/4	60 1/4
Apr.	58 1/4	59 1/4	58 1/4	59 1/4
May	57 1/4	58 1/4	57 1/4	58 1/4
June	56 1/4	57 1/4	56 1/4	57 1/4
July	55 1/4	56 1/4	55 1/4	56 1/4
Aug.	54 1/4	55 1/4	54 1/4	55 1/4
Sept.	53 1/4	54 1/4	53 1/4	54 1/4
Oct.	52 1/4	53 1/4	52 1/4	53 1/4
Nov.	51 1/4	52 1/4	51 1/4	52 1/4
Dec.	50 1/4	51 1/4	50 1/4	51 1/4
Jan.	49 1/4	50 1/4	49 1/4	50 1/4
Feb.	48 1/4	49 1/4	48 1/4	49 1/4
Mar.	47 1/4	48 1/4	47 1/4	48 1/4
Apr.	46 1/4	47 1/4	46 1/4	47 1/4
May	45 1/4	46 1/4	45 1/4	46 1/4
June	44 1/4	45 1/4	44 1/4	45 1/4
July	43 1/4	44 1/4	43 1/4	44 1/4
Aug.	42 1/4	43 1/4	42 1/4	43 1/4
Sept.	41 1/4	42 1/4	41 1/4	42 1/4
Oct.	40 1/4	41 1/4	40 1/4	41 1/4
Nov.	39 1/4	40 1/4	39 1/4	40 1/4
Dec.	38 1/4	39 1/4	38 1/4	39 1/4
Jan.	37 1/4	38 1/4	37 1/4	38 1/4
Feb.	36 1/4	37 1/4	36 1/4	37 1/4
Mar.	35 1/4	36 1/4	35 1/4	36 1/4
Apr.	34 1/4	35 1/4	34 1/4	35 1/4
May	33 1/4	34 1/4	33 1/4	34 1/4
June	32 1/4	33 1/4	32 1/4	33 1/4
July	31 1/4	32 1/4	31 1/4	32 1/4
Aug.	30 1/4	31 1/4	30 1/4	31 1/4
Sept.	29 1/4	30 1/4	29 1/4	30 1/4
Oct.	28 1/4	29 1/4	28 1/4	29 1/4
Nov.	27 1/4	28 1/4	27 1/4	28 1/4
Dec.	26 1/4	27 1/4	26 1/4	27 1/4
Jan.	25 1/4	26 1/4	25 1/4	26 1/4
Feb.	24 1/4	25 1/4	24 1/4	25 1/4
Mar.	23 1/4	24 1/4	23 1/4	24 1/4
Apr.	22 1/4	23 1/4	22 1/4	23 1/4
May	21 1/4	22 1/4	21 1/4	22 1/4
June	20 1/4	21 1/4	20 1/4	21 1/4
July	19 1/4	20 1/4	19 1/4	20 1/4
Aug.	18 1/4	19 1/4	18 1/4	19 1/4
Sept.	17 1/4	18 1/4	17 1/4	18 1/4
Oct.	16 1/4	17 1/4	16 1/4	17 1/4
Nov.	15 1/4	16 1/4	15 1/4	16 1/4
Dec.	14 1/4	15 1/4	14 1/4	15 1/4
Jan.	13 1/4	14 1/4	13 1/4	14 1/4
Feb.	12 1/4	13 1/4	12 1/4	13 1/4
Mar.	11 1/4	12 1/4	11 1/4	12 1/4
Apr.	10 1/4	11 1/4	10 1/4	11 1/4
May	9 1/4	10 1/4	9 1/4	10 1/4
June	8 1/4	9 1/4	8 1/4	9 1/4
July	7 1/4	8 1/4	7 1/4	8 1/4
Aug.	6 1/4	7 1/4	6 1/4	7 1/4
Sept.	5 1/4	6 1/4	5 1/4	6 1/4
Oct.	4 1/4	5 1/4	4 1/4	5 1/4
Nov.	3 1/4	4 1/4	3 1/4	4 1/4
Dec.	2 1/4	3 1/4	2 1/4	3 1/4
Jan.	1 1/4	2 1/4	1 1/4	2 1/4
Feb.	1/4	1 1/4	1/4	1 1/4
Mar.	0	1/4	0	1/4
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0	0	0
Aug.	0	0	0	0
Sept.	0	0	0	0
Oct.	0	0	0	0
Nov.	0	0	0	0
Dec.	0	0	0	0
Jan.	0	0	0	0
Feb.	0	0	0	0
Mar.	0	0	0	0
Apr.	0	0	0	0
May	0	0	0	0
June	0	0	0	0
July	0	0		